THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXI. ATLANTA, GEORGIA, FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1889. PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE GEORGIA OFFICES

AGAIN COME TO THE FRONT IN PUBLIC INTEREST.

THE POSTOFFICE AT ATHENS

To Be Investigated by a Special Examiner—The Revenue Collector to Be Appointed Today—Other News.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—[Special.]—"Citizen" Pledger left for home tonight. He is to be appointed temporarily as special agent in in the treasury department, pending the settlement of the Brunswick collectorship. If he is not made the collector at Brunswick he will be made the deputy, providing Deveaux is appointed collector.

THE ATHENS POSTOFFICE.

It is said that there will soon be a change in the Athens postoffice, and from recent rumors it is not improbable that the present incumbent, Mr. W. B. Burnett, will be asked to resign. There is a rumor at the department that a special examiner will soon be sent there to investigate affairs.

There are allegations that Mr. Burnett does not devote personally as much time to the office as he should, and unless he is willing to personally oversee the office and its workings, he will be asked to resign. The department, however, is inclined to believe that some of Burnett's enemies are trying to set up a job on him for the purpose of forcing his resignation. Therefore, there will be nothing done until the bottom facts are learned. Burnett stands well at the department, and his office has a good record for being well managed and run on business-like principles.

OTHER PLACES TO BE FILLED.

W. H. Pierce is being pushed for the consulship at Mantanzas, Cuba.

F. C. Cunningham is to be appointed postmaster at Harmony Grove.

Charles A. Beal, of Augusta, is to be given a place in the postoffice department here.

THE GEORGIA COLLECTORSHIP.

It is more than probable that a collector of internal revenue for Georgia will be appointed tomorrow. The list has been reached and Georgia is in the bunch of papers on the president's desk, which will be taken up soon. Buck thinks Arnold will win. He was at the white house today again in his interest and had a half hour's talk with the president.

NEW POSTMASTERS.

The postmaster general today appointed the following fourth class postmasters for Georgia:

Lula—Outlaw.

Baconton, Mitchell county—J. N. Carson.

Boston, Thomas county—G. A. Sharpe.

Goloid, Screven county—G. H. Yates.

LEGITIME DEFEATED.

The State Department Will Say Nothing About the Hayti Orders.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—All applications at the state department for information respecting the cablegram received yesterday from Hayti are met with point blank refusal; officials even decline to make a negative statement that there was nothing alarming in the news. Secretary Tracy, however, was willing to say that the dispatch did not reveal the existence of a dangerous state of affairs at Hayti. But another officer, who had seen the cablegram, hinted it told of renewed fighting between factions on the island. Commodore Ramsay, of the New York navy yard, had a long private interview with the secretary of the navy this morning. Secretary Tracy has ordered the Kearsage to proceed at once to Hayti. She will carry Rear Admiral Gheradi. It was the original intention to send the Boston on this mission and she could make the trip in about half the time that will be taken by the Kearsage, but the latter has been substituted because she is best known as the "fever-ship," and it would be hazardous to again expose her to yellow fever.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The steamer "Alene," from Kingston, Jamaica, June 6th, arrived this morning, and brings intelligence which substantiates the London cable report of Hippolyte's victory and Legitime's defeat. Chief Officer Williams, of the "Alene," said that Legitime had sought protection of the American consul at Port-au-Prince. Hippolyte's officers had entered Port-au-Prince and taken possession of the town.

The victorious warrior, however, Mr. Williams said, was not popular with the people generally, and could probably never be president of the black republic by a vote of the inhabitants. A man named Maraamon, Legitime's minister of foreign affairs, or an ex-president of the republic, whose name Williams could not recall, would doubtless appear as the next candidates for the presidency of Hayti.

THORNDIKE RICE'S WILL

He Devided His Estate Among His Relatives.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The will of Allen Thorndike Rice, who recently died here, was filed with the probate clerk today, by Charles Cottin, of Brooklyn, one of the executors. The will was executed in Liverpool in 1881. The first executor named is Colonel De Bannelos, of Madrid, an uncle of the testators. The will gives $100,000 to each of the testators and $20,000 to his stepfather, Frederick Kofler, of Darmstadt, Germany. To Lord S. Bryce is given 51-100 of the estate and an interest of and in the North American Review, and of the stock, machinery, etc., thereof. The residue of the estate goes to the trustees (executors) in trust to pay the funeral expensed; one-third to pay in trust to the Countess De Banneless, trustee, etc., for her sole and separate use; another one-third of the trust fund to the testator's aunt, the Countes De Sartiges; the remaining third to James Parker, Charles T. Parker and Mary Martha Parker, children of his aunt, in equal shares when they become of age. The personalty is 205,000.

CHANDLER NOMINATED.

Some Excitement on a Charge That Vote Had Been Bought.

CONCORD, N. H., June 13.—The convention to elect a United States senator, held tonight, resulted as follows: Whole number of votes, 187; Gilman Marston, 2; Jacob H. Gallinger, 60; William E. Chandler, 125; and Chandler was declared the nominee. Previous to balloting, Mr. Sulloway, of Manchester, said he had heard reports that persons in the interest of Chandler had been offering $350 for one vote and 1,200 for two votes for United States senator.

Mr. Varney, of Dover, said a gentleman had called at his house last Sunday and told him a person had been offered these sums. Chandler denies the charge, and says he never offered, or instructed any person to offer, money in consideration for votes. This speech caused great excitement. Chandler appeared in the caucus and addressed it briefly. He pledged his sacred honor that he had done nothing unjust to secure votes.

The Colored Cadet Failed.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The record of the examinations at the military academy just received at the war department shows that Cadet Young, of Ohio, the only colored cadet at West Point, failed to pass final examination. On recommendation of the academic board he will be given two months' time to make good his deficiency if he can.

Died of Lockjaw.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 13.—[Special.]—George Handley, a teamster, died at the charity hospital today of lockjaw, caused by the kick of a mule. Handley was trying to put harness on a young mule yesterday, when it kicked him in the face. His injury did not appear to be serious, but lockjaw set in today and he died in a few hours.

Smalls Gets an Appointment.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The president today appointed to be collectors of customs T. Jefferson Jarrett, for the district of Petersburg, Va.; Robert Smalls, for the district of Beaufort, S. C.

THE STATE'S FIRST DAY

At Johnstown in Clearing Away the Debris—Trouble With the Workmen.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 13.—The first real work under the supervision of the state, commenced this morning at 6 o'clock. The whistle at Cambria Iron and Steel works was the signal for the men to commence, and about 1,500 started in with their picks and shovels. The early morning was warm and cloudy, and the fumes and odors from the decayed bodies was something almost unbearable. As the morning advanced the weather grew warmer, and by 10 o'clock, the sun was shining brightly and every one on the ground was hard at work. During the morning a crowd of worthless loafers in some manner secured entrance to the town, and wanted to inaugurate a strike among the workmen. Some of the laborers were already dissatisfied at having new bosses over them, and only wanted a chance to complain. James McKnight, of Pittsburg, of the state contractors, got wind of trouble brewing and went among the men and informed them that and that all those who wished to quit would have to do so immediately, and about one hundred of the men left, but the loafers remained around, and Mr. McKight went to General Hastings and demanded protection for his men. A detachment of militia from the Fourteenth regiment were detailed to the place and drove away all the men who refused to work. This caused General Hastings to issue an order to the soldiers not to admit anyone to Johnstown proper without an order.

The business men of the town seem to have awakened to their senses, and this morning a number of them were preparing to start over again in business. Two grocery stores were started near the Pennsylvania railroad freight station. Both places were doing a land office business, and this encouraged other merchants to start up.

OTHER PLACES TO BE FILLED.

FOUR THOUSAND LIVES LOST.

The general opinion among well-posted people here is that the loss of life will be between 3,000 and 4,000. It was generally given out that Johnstown and the boroughs adjoining had a population of 35,000 people, but this is a very high estimate, and conservative people place the population between 25,000 and 28,000. Colonel Ayers, who has charge of the registration, states that from all he can learn, the population only amounts to about 25,000, and this accounts for 10,000 people supposed to be lost. Reports sent from here to the effect that 12,000 to 15,00 people were missing were based upon the supposition that there were 35,000 inhabitants in these boroughs. Reports as to the number of bodies recovered at different points along the flooded districts are very conflicting. Supposed official reports have been sent in by different persons, and these are also conflicting, and put the number of bodies recovered anywhere from 1,000 to 1,800, consequently there is no telling how many bodies have been recovered.

THINGS BRIGHTENING UP.

Today was the second day since the flood that Johnstown was not deluged with rain, and under the influence of a bright sun, the sandy soil is soon drying, and things in general brighten up wonderfully. A number of stores have their wares inside were started in business anew and large sales of flooded goods were effected, being bought chiefly as relics. The people are making heroic efforts to clean out their houses to fit them for habitation. Numbers have combined to help each other to rest houses on their foundations, and to remove the accumulation of drift and rubbish which bars the entrance to their doors. Sewer pipes are all awry, and cellars are all full of water. There is no chance for engines to pump out the water as early as possible.

Syphoning has been tried, but with no success, as the cellars are much lower than the ground. The Cambria company started out a corps of surveyors this evening to locate the lines of demarkation for the rebuilding and repair of their demolished plant.

The first decisive steps towards putting Johnstown business men on their feet again was made today, when about two hundred merchants, who had survived the flood, many of them without a dollar, met Adjutant-General Hastings this afternoon and were assured that they would be re-established in business on long credit. Both Pittsburg and Philadelphia wholesale houses have offered Johnstown merchants this business courtesy. The meeting today turned out to be an ovation to General Hastings. The meeting was opened by the adjutant general, who said:

"I have been directed to clear the streets of Johnstown, and make contracts with men to open the way in order that the merchants may be enabled to get to and from their business places. Our work is progressing rapidly and vigorously, and the best thing for Johnstown merchants to do is to begin business over again. I have communicated with eastern firms who offer to assist you if you will resume business in this city. I would suggest that you build temporary structures for the present, until more favorable circumstances warrant the erection of permanent establishments."

FIRING THE DEBRIS.

The total number of bodies recovered today was 19, making the grand total of bodies recovered 1,999. The mass at the stone bridge was fired this afternoon and tonight is burning furiously. With it is destroyed all hope of recovering the bodies that are certainly entombed.

Discharging the Conductors.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Information has reached here that all passenger conductors on the Choctaw and Cherokee divisions of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad have been discharged and several freight conductors put in their places. All the discharged men were old employes of the road. All of the trouble is attributed to spotters, who have been working the system industriously since it passed to the hands of the receivers. The general impression is there will be change in passenger conductors in the whole system from Denver to Sedalia.

Sold for a Song.

NEW YORK, June 13.—An unusually large sale of dry goods, consisting of stockinetts, Jersey cloth, Fedora and Astrakan cloakings and colored silk grenadines, took place here today. On account of the laziness of the season many of the lot offered did not realize within one-third of the manufacturers' cost. Full width, plain and fancy Jersey cloth, 47 to 52 inches wide, sold for from 60 to 65 cents per yard. Fine assortment of plush cloakings, full width, went for 40 to 75 cents per yard; and cloth overcoatings, 52 inches wide, for 45 cents per yard. The attendance was small.

A Plug Tobacco Trust.

CHICAGO, June 13.—A special dispatch from St. Louis says: The latest is trust of $25,000,000, which takes in all the plug tobacco manufactories of the United States. Their scheme is claimed to be one of self-protection. All manufacturers will sell out to one company, and then take stock to amount of valuation of their plants. Leggett and Myers and Drummond & Company, of this city, and P. Lorillard, of New York, are at the head of the affair.

Will Issue Repair Bonds.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 13.—The stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal met here today, the state of Maryland being a majority stockholder, and passed resolutions authorizing the issue of repair bonds for the purpose of putting the canal in order again. The bonds are to be secured by a lien upon the canal bond. The amount required is estimated at $30,000.

Oil Refinery Burned.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 13.—The Bear Creek oil refinery was destroyed by fire this evening. The foreman was burned to death and the superintendent will die. Others were terribly burned and are in a serious condition. The loss will be very heavy.

The Amendment Defeated.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 13.—The house has defeated the resolution providing for submitting to the people a constitutional amendment providing for the election of state officers by a plurality vote. It was a strictly party vote—yeas 80, nays 118.

ON THE WAR PATH.

THE CHIPPEWA INDIANS MURDERING THE WHITES.

AN UPRISING OUT IN MINNESOTA.

The Red Men Massacre the Inoffensive Swedes—The Governor Called Upon for Troops, Which Were Sent.

ST. PAUL, June 13.—The following telegram was received at Governor Merriam's office at 5:30 p. m.:

MORA, Minn., June 13.—The Chippewa Indians at Mille Lacs Lake, commenced killing and driving out the white settlers last midnight. Several whites were killed and wounded, all inoffensive Swedes No known cause. Report us to quiet the Indians. Soldiers can come to Mora, thence to Mille Lacs Lake on to Milaica station, and to the lake. Answer. EVEN MCKELSER.

Prompt measures will be taken to supppress the uprising.

THE GERMAN BAPTISTS.

Last Day's Proceedings of the Convention at Harrisonburg.

HARRISONBURG, Va., June 13.—The grand annual German Baptist meeting closed today. Before the regular proceedings the venerable J. N. Metzer, of Cerro Gordo, Ill., delivered a powerful and eloquent address, exhorting the brethren to lead pure lives and keep themselves unspotted from the world. The intellect of the speaker was as bright as in years gone by, when his eloquence charmed the ears and his logic convinced the minds of his hearers. He spoke both in English and German. The first business of the regular session was the consideration of the question whether any but elders and bishops could be employed in missionary work. There was a long and heated discussion apon the subject, and the decision was finally postponed till the next annual meeting. The divorce question, which it was thought would be the great question of the meeting, and upon which a special committee was appointed at the last annual meeting, W. B. Brought made the following report of that committee:

We have not had a good opportunity to consult with each other on the subject, but we know that we can't agree to our own satisfaction and we desire you to defer the question another year and appoint another committee.

This led to a long and spirited debate and the matter was finally settled by a resolution authorizing the standing committee to appoint a committee of five to report to the next meeting a resolution of thanks to the various committees, citizens of Harrisonburg, congregations which had open their churches, and railroads which had favored the brethern with half fares was adopted.

Warrensburg, Mo., was chosen as the place of the next annual meeting, and the first Tuesday after Pentecost as the time. The meeting then adjourned.

HOME FOR INVALID PRINTERS.

Proceedings of the International Union at Denver.

DENVER, Col., June 13.—At the third day's session of the International Typographical convention, the matter relative to the sending of a delegate to [illegible] during the international congress, which convenes next month, was referred to the committee of the whole.

Considerable discussion was caused by receiving a petition to use plates in the government office at Washington. Referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. Cassety, of New York, Reichel, of Illinois, Metcalf, of Minneapolis, and Richards, of Waco, Texas.

Several propositions for the establishment of a home for invalid printers were then submitted to the meeting. The committee to which they were referred reported unanimously in favor of adopting the proposition submitted by the citizens of Colorado Springs, who offered eighty acres of land near in as a free grant on condition that the home be started within two years, and completed within three years. By a rising report it was adopted.

Reports of various committees were then taken up, the consideration of which took up the remainder of the day. The president ruled there were no vacancies, and consequently no election of officers will be held until next year. An appeal was taken and the ruling of the chair sustained. The delegation are well entertained in an elegant manner. The convention will adjourn tomorrow.

TRINITY COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

The Question of Its Removal to Raleigh Discussed.

HIGH POINT, N. C., June 13.—[Special.]—The fourth day of the commencement at Trinity college opened with the baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. Dr. O. P. Fitzgerald, of the Nashville Christian Advocate, Nashville, Tenn., from I Tim., iv, 7: "Exercise Thyself Unto Godliness."

Mr. Frank E. Welch, a graduate of Michigan university, and student at Jura university, Germany, was elected to the chair of Latin and Greek. The question of the removal of the college to Raleigh, is agitating the minds of the trustees, alumni and students. The celebrations of the trustees yesterday called forth the hottest discussion ever made in the halls of the college. The board finally adjourned until today, when a motion prevailed to postpone until July 9th. The exercises of today closed the session with the conferring of the baccalaureate degrees upon the graduating class of nine. The degree of D. D. was conferred upon Rev. J. E. Mann, Greensboro; Master of Arts upon Professor A. W. Lary, of Wofford college, Spartanburg, S. C.; Professor W. A. Blair, Winston; Professor Dred Peacock, Greensboro Female college, and Professor J. L. Armstrong, Trinity college.

THE SCHEME FAILED.

How a Suit Against a Railroad Broke Down.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Suit for $25,000 damage against the Chicago and Eastern railroad terminated in a sensational fiasco, in Judge Anthony's court today. Mrs. Anna E. Bailey, the claimant, claimed to have received severe spinal injuries in the explosion of a locomotive, near Polk street depot, Chicago, in February, 1887, and was supported in her evidence by her brother, Nathaniel B. Baldwin and Mrs. Frances R. Farmer. The defense produced evidence that the railroad ticket which Mrs. Bailey exhibited in court had really been furnished her weeks after the accident by a detective of the railroad, Mrs. Bailey having made repeated requests for ticket of date previous to the explosion. Letters were also produced wherein the claimant agreed to pay a man named Smith $100 for certain false evidence which he was to testify in the case. Mrs. Bailey was so thunderstruck as to fail to deny these letters to which her signature was attached. Her attorneys renounced the case in open court, and Judge Anthony requested the state's attorney to present the matter to the grand jury, and ask for indictments against Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Fannie R. Forman and Nathaniel B. Baldwin for perjury.

Two Boys Drowned.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Two white boys, Jimmie Freeman, aged 11, and Louis Miller, 13 years, were drowned in the harbor this afternoon, while out yachting. They were on the yacht White Wings with a party. The boys were knocked overboard by the main sail boom. Miller must have been stunned by the blow, for he sank immediately. Freeman sank before aid could reach him. A party are now out searching for the bodies. Young Miller is a son of F. W. Miller, a well known reporter, for many years connected with the old Charleston Courier and the News and Courier.

A Watchman Drowned.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 13.—[Special.]—James W. Warren, aged nineteen, and watchman on the steamer E. T. Holmes, attempted to step into a skiff from the steamer while the latter was in motion today; the skiff careened and Warren fell into the river. Being unable to swim he was drowned.

DESTRUCTION OF LUCHOW.

A Chinese City Destroyed by Fire—Terrible Loss of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—The steamer City of Peking arrived yesterday from Hong Kong via Yokohoma. The Shanghai Courier of May 10th contains news, which the latter had received from a correspondent at Chung King, to the effect that Luchow, a city of some importance in upper Pangtsze, was reported as being nearly destroyed by fire about a month previous. Seven out of eight gates of the city are said to have been destroyed and the loss of life in burned and trampled to death is estimated at 10,000.

Commenting on this the Shanghai Courier says:

In case that this startling news is true, it is a remarkable fact that it has not reached Shanghai before now, as it is just a month since the fire was reported to have occurred. Still this is not conclusive proof that a great disaster has not happened, as a month is not too long a time for a letter to reach Chung King. We met a gentleman in Shanghai today who was in Tchang less than a month ago, and he informed us that a Mandarin was a fellow passenger with him as far as Hankow, and he told him about the fire, mentioning that three fourths of the people of Luchow had been destroyed.

The Samoan Conference.

BERLIN, June 13.—The American commissioners to the Samoan conference have received instructions from Mr. Blaine, American secretary of state, in relation to the protocol drawn up by the conference. Mr. Blaine disagrees with several provisions of the protocol and also is of the opinion that England and Germany have not gone far enough in respect to the rights conceded to the United States. The conference had a sitting today to receive Mr. Blaine's reply. The English and German commissioners will afterwards consider Mr. Blaine's objections and decide upon what policy they shall pursue, and upon the attitude which they adopt depends the continuance of the conference.

Judging from what has passed and especially in view of the American declarations, the Samoan commissioners have probably a large amount of work still before them. It is likely that regular sittings of the conference will be resumed. There is a meterial difference of opinion on various points between the three powers.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—There is the highest authority for the statement that there is no foundation whatever for the rumor published in New York this afternoon, that Secretary Blaine has ordered the American commissioners to withdraw from the Samoan conference unless more concessions were made. The negotiations, it is said, are proceeding in perfect harmony.

Mr. Gladstone in Danger.

LONDON, June 13.—Mr. Gladstone met with an adventure today. While passing through the town of Wadebridge, in Cornwall, a missile, which is believed to have been a live cartridge, was thrown at his carriage. Mr. Gladstone was not much disturbed by the incident, but the police think it was an attempt upon his life, and are looking for the man who threw the missile. Whatever was thrown did not touch the carriage and no stop was made. Three persons pointed out the man whom they said was the thrower. They hesitated about formally identifying him, however, and no arrest was made.

The police discredit the story of throwing a cartridge at Gladstone. If anything was thrown, they say, the thrower was guilty of nothing more than perpetrating a badly conceived joke.

The Accident in Ireland.

ARMAGH, June 13.—Many anxious friends are making inquiries for missing children at the infirmary to which the persons injured in yesterday's railroad accident were taken. Crowds surround the building and discussion of the terrible disaster engrosses the attention of the entire community. The interior of the infirmary presents a sad spectacle. One of the wounded, a boy named Cleland, died this morning. Both of his parents and his two brothers were killed outright. The dead now number seventy-four. Others of the wounded are in a critical condition.

Panama Canal Relief Bill.

PARIS, June 13.—The government Panama canal relief bill was introduced in the chamber of deputies today. It empowers the liquidator of the company to place on the best conditions possible and regardless of legal limit as to price, 800,000 of bonds which have not yet been subscribed for. It also authorizes a subscription of 4,000,000 francs to cover the expenses necessary for the maintenance of the works pending an inquiry into question of completion of canal. The liquidators will not be obliged so issue bonds, but he can negotiate with financiers to place them. The bonds will remain as lottery bonds.

The Maybrick Trial.

LIVERPOOL, June 13.—At the hearing today in the case of Mrs. Maybrick, who is charged with poisoning her husband, Michael Maybrick, brother of the deceased, admitted that he had given to the police a copy of the dispatch which the deceased had requested him to cable to New York. He had sent the dispatch the next day. The hearing was concluded today and Mrs. Maybrick was committed for trial at the next assizes.

The Depot Ship Launched.

LONDON, June 13.—Torpedo depot ship Vulcan was launched at Portsmouth today. She is the largest vessel the government has ever built. It is intended that she shall accompany the fleet and carry a large equipment of torpedo boats. She will form a floating workshop. She will be supplied with hydraulic cranes on which torpedo boats can be hoisted in and out of the water. The Vulcan is of 6,620 tons burden and 12,000 horse power.

The Lord Provost Declines.

LONDON, June 13.—The lord provost of Edinburg has refused to confer the freedom of the city upon Mr. Parnell on the occasion of the visit of the Irish leader in July. The senior magistrate present at the ceremony will therefore officiate.

The Cab Strike in Paris.

PARIS, June 13.—A few cabs appeared on the streets this evening. They were stopped by the strikers, who tried to compel the drivers to join them. The police interfered and drove away the strikers.

The Whole Staff in Limbo.

TRIESTE, June 13.—The editor and staff of the Italian irredentist paper, L'Independente, published in this city, have been arrested. The discovery of criminal documents led to the arrests.

Death of One of the Apia Survivors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 13.—Lieutenant Frank Reeves Heath, U. S. N., died at Mare Island naval hospital yesterday after six days illness. He was one of the survivors of the wrecked man-of-war Vandalia, and came here on the steamer Rocktown a few weeks ago. He has been suffering for many weeks from disease contracted at Apia, and a week ago was taken down with an attack of compound pneumonia.

The Sun's Review.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The futures were a few points dearer, especially for this crop, on a stronger report from Liverpool, but speculation continues very sluggish, and after a little buyers began to give way under the selling movement, under which the early advance was more than the last. Crop advices were of clearing weather generally, but continued rains in the northern belt. Cotton on spot was in good demand for home consumption, but it was freely met and prices were easier.

They Fired Upon the Boys.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 13.—A negro drum corps parading in the western part of the city this evening was annoyed by a party of small white lads, and opened fire on them with pistols at short range. Walter Wright, aged 16, was shot through the temple and died within a few minutes. Joseph Lawless, aged 8, was shot through the shoulder, breaking the bones of his arm and fracturing the collar bone. Thos. Mallonev was shot in the arm, producing a painful wound. The negroes are under arrest.

THE CRONIN MYSTERY.

THE GRAND JURY TAKING HOLD OF THE MATTER.

SEVERAL MORE ARRESTS MADE.

Governor Hill, of New York, Refuses to Surrender Maroney on a Requisition of Governor Fifer, of Illinois.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The principal interest in the Cronin case was centered this morning in the grand jury that met at 10 o'clock. The strict orders of secrecy which were instituted yesterday were in no wise departed from. No one but the witnesses and officers of the court were even allowed to ascend to the jury room floor. In accordance with the general summons issued, various witnesses arrived early on the scene. Mrs. Conklin and John J. Cronin were the first to make an appearance. Carlson, father and son came next, and were followed by Phillip Schelter and Pat Dinan, the livery man; Martinson, the expressman, who hauled the furniture to the Carlson cottage, Thiel, the bartender, who found the bloody trunk after it had been abandoned by Woodruff and his accomplices, were both escorted to the jury room. Nothing has transpired thus far that is now as the result of today's investigation.

RECORDER BOLAND'S OPINION.

KANSAS CITY, June 13.—Michael Boland, recorder of Kansas City, whose name has been connected with that of Alexander Sullivan and other members of the Clan-na-Gael, in connection with the Cronin murder mystery, expressed the opinion to a Journal reporter tonight that Cronin was murdered by members of the Clan-na-Gael. He thought that some of the more ignorant members, sharing the general belief that Cronin was a spy, killed him in mistake, thinking they were benefiting the order. He says Sullivan or any leaders were not even remotely connected with the conspiracy. The common sense of Sullivan and the others would hold aloof from an unlawful act.

REFUSED TO GIVE THEM UP.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 13.—A requisition was presented to Governor Hill today from Governor Fifer, of Illinois, for the surrender of John J. Maroney and Charles McDonald, charged with the murder of Dr. Cronin. The governor denied the application without prejudice to the renewal of the same, simply on the grounds: 1. That the application was not accompanied by an indictment. 2. That no proof whatever was presented showing that the accused are guilty of the crime charged against them, required by the laws of this and all other states. The application was based solely upon an affidavit made upon "information and belief."

THE HOWARD LIBEL CASE.

The Defense Opens Its Batteries on the Reverend Doctor.

JACKSON, Tenn., June 13.—[Special.]—The great Howard damage suit is beginning to assume shape. The declaration was received this morning. It covers about sixty pages of legal cap, and contains sixteen counts. The charges, as published in the Forked Deer Blade, Tennessee, and the Bantist and Baptist Reflector, briefly are: that the plaintiff has borne the aliases Frederick Howard, Hewlett, Howard; that if he sailed on the ship Tigress in 1873, in search of the Polaris in the Arctic regions, he bore the name of Howlett; that in South Carolina he associated with negroes; as trial justice, had committed malfeasance in office; eloped from Robbins, South Carolina, with G. C. Brown's wife; that his life is covered over with a mass of corruption. The defendants plead the truth in justification.

The first evidence introduced by the plaintiff was to prove the publication in the papers, and it was conspiracy also, to prove that the plaintiff secured his title—doctor of divinity—from the Agricultural and Mechanical college at Auburn, Ala., in a regular manner in 1883.

The defendants opened this afternoon. They introduced depositions of Commander Greer, of the Tigris, the officers in the bureau of the navy in Washington, and a journalist named Commague, who sailed in the Tigris on the polar expedition in search of the Polaris in 1873; that no man named Howard was on the vessel; that Fredeck Howlett was on it as a seamen, deserted the ship in New York harbor in November of the same year. Here the case rests. This connection of the case with a historical event like the arctic expedition, is but one of the many interesting points which are to come up during this trial.

A DESPERATE LOVER.

Being Rejected, He Tries to Blow Up the House.

CHICAGO, June 13.—A dispatch from Bowling Green, Ohio, says: Frank James was arrested Tuesday night on the charge of attempting to blowing up Mrs. Mertie William-son's house with dynamite. He was put in the town jail where he committed suicide by hanging himself with a pair of suspenders. Mrs. Williamson is applying for a divorce from her husband, and James has been trying to get her to promise to marry him as soon as she gets the divorce. As she refused, it is surmised that James undertook to further his suit by threatening to blow her up with dynamite. Tuesday evening during Mrs. Williamson's absence, James, who was about half drunk, was discovered in the cellar asleep with a big dynamite cartidge attached to a fuse in his hand. The police were notified and James was arrested after a severe struggle, and was placed in jail with the result above stated.

LYNCH LAW IN INDIANA.

Two Burglars Strung Up by a Mob at Corydon.

CORYDON, Ind., June 13.—James Deavin and Charles Tennyson were lynched at 2 o'clock this morning. They were taken from jail here by a mob of two hundred men and removed to a bridge west of the town where an effort to make them confess failed, and they were strung up. The two men attempted to rob the residence of James Lemay, near here, on Friday night last. Lemay resisted and was shot, but not fatally wounded. A young woman, a niece of Lemay, was also seriously injured by a bullet.

Held for Robbery.

CHICAGO, June 13.—A dispatch from Tucson, Ariz., says: The preliminary hearing of the parties who robbed Paymaster Whann was commenced yesterday afternoon. Gilbert Webb, Wilford Webb, M. E. Cunningham, Natt Follet, Lyman Follet, Thomas Lamb and David Rogers were held to answer before the grand jury. Edward Follet was discharged. All the parties held were identified and a large amount of circumstantial evidence adduced against them. Other parties will probably be arrested soon.

Cheated the Gallows.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Camillo Bougatti, awaiting trial for the murder of Francisco Sanevito, whom he killed on the 22d of May, committed suicide in the Tombs tonight by hanging. With a piece of rope taken from his bed-tick, he made a noose, and attaching one end to a sewer pipe running across the ceiling of his cell he stood on his bed, placed his head in the noose and swung off. At 6:25 the guards discovered him hanging and cut him down, but life was extinct.

Sent Up for Felony.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Frank Templeman, who was convicted recently of felony in accusing Inspector Byrnes and District Attorney Fellows of being in conspiracy to defraud the city treasury, was arraigned before Judge Martine today in part third of the general sessions, and sent to state prison for three years and nine months.

LOOKING FOR HIS WIFE.

A Strange Story of Murder, Flight and Abduction.

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Mr. C. L. Talbot, of Dale county, Ala., is in the city looking for his wife. She ran away with Jordan Green, his brother-in-law, some time ago. He tells the following story: "I am a native of South Carolina, and came to Alabama some months ago. Our removal to that state was under peculiar circumstances. My brother-in-law, Jordan Green, killed Willie Casey, who had married her sister's husband. Jordan Green had a wife and five children, and I had a wife but no children. For the sake of his safety I sold out all my property in South Carolina, and we all came to Alabama. We first went to Eufaula, but only stayed there awhile, and then went to Dale county. After all had been there a few weeks, my wife told me that Green, who is her brother, was wrong, and if we continued to live together. I then decided to go on down to Geneva county and buy a home and let him go his own way. I left home for that purpose. I was gone several days, and when I returned I found that Green and his wife and children had gone and taken my wife with them. They left on the very night of the day I started to Geneva. I am satisfied that they forced my wife to go with them, for the sake of $600 in cash which I left with her. I traced them to Abbeville, and from there to Fort Gaines, and lost trace of them there. I then came across the country to Union Springs, and there I heard that they had been seen going toward Montgomery, but I heard nothing of them there. Jordan Green was known in Eufaula and Troy as Bill Jones, and his real name is W. J. Gray.

HE HAS KILLED TWO MEN.

one in Tennessee before he went to South Carolina, and then Willie Casey, in South Carolina. They took my wife and money, and all my clothing and furniture, and I have no idea where they are. I am going to continue the search for them, and any information you may obtain for me will be thankfully received. I left Montgomery on Tuesday evening, and walked from there here by way of Union Springs. I took the railroad track all the way. I did not hear anything on the road. I reached Columbus this evening, and will stay here tonight, as I am tired down. In the morning I will make for them, but I have no idea that they are here. I have walked over 1,000 miles searching for them, and I will continue the search until I find them. If I don't obtain any information of them here, I will start for the country tomorrow evening."

Talbott described Green as a good looking man, with black hair, fair complexion, blue eyes and red moustache weighing 180 pounds. The women are both good looking, weighing 140 and 138 pounds respectively.

DECATUR TOPICS.

A Social Party Crosses the Country to Stone Mountain.

DECATUR, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—A pleasant party of young people went from here Tuesday to Stone mountain by private conveyance. The party was composed of Misses Velaria Fraser, Anna Winn, Arlena Barnard, and Messrs. Borden Green, Robert Lee Avery, of Decatur, and Mr. Shepherd, of Savannah. They were chaperoned by Miss Fairbanks, of Midway.

Miss Nellie Grant, of Griffin, Ga., is visiting Mrs. G. A. Ramspeck, on Broad street.

Miss Pauline Pearce, who has been teaching at Georgetown, D. C., returned home this morning to spend her vacation at this place with her mother, Mrs. J. G. Pearce, on Sycamore street.

Rev. F. G. Gaines, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has commenced a protracted meeting at his church which will continue through next week. Rev. Dr. Strickler, of Atlanta, will assist him next week.

Death of an Eminent Carolinian.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 13.—Hon. William F. Colcock died today. For many years he was one of the most distinguished citizens of the state. He represented Prince William parish in the state legislature for a MEDICAL.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken; and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Day, Cohoes, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU

The Great Remedy For All Bladder and Kidney Troubles

Read the testimony of a physician who has thoroughly tested it in an active practice.

STUART MANUFACTURING CO.: Gentlemen—I have thoroughly tested your Stuart's Gin and Buchu, and am convinced that it has great intrinsic worth, and fills a long felt want in medicine. It possesses a delicacy of flavor which renders it agree, able to the most feeble and fastidious taste. It is a good stomachic and a general and efficient tonic.

In kidney and bladder troubles it has no equal. Both in acute and chronic affections of these organs its use, in my hands, has given great satisfaction imparting tone and vigor where loss of vitality or other irregularities exist.

Wishing you that success which the merit of Stuart's Gin and Buchu guarantees, I am, respect fully, R. A. FONTAINE, M. D.

THE DEFENSE BEGUN.

THE LADIES OBJECT TO CERTAIN EVIDENCE.

The Terrible Night at the Woolfolk Mansion Again Described—Tom Woolfolk's Prayer.

PERRY, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—At the opening of the court this morning the prosecution asked a few minutes indulgence as a means of saving time in the introduction of testimony, as they hoped to close today. Judge Nottingham came down last night, was closeted with his associates, and court proceeded to business at 8:45.

Colonel Rutherford protested that part of John Owens's testimony yesterday was indecent, and shocked the modesty of the ladies, who declared that they wouldn't again attend the trial. He asked to be put on notice hereafter when such testimony is to be brought out.

Captain Hardeman declared that he didn't know that the words complained of would be used, and would not knowingly draw out

ANY INDECENT TESTIMONY.

Jake Heard, of Macon, corroborated the previous testimony as to the impossibility of the shirt and drawers drawn from the well being the same as were taken from the dead body of Captain Woolfolk or Richard.

Sarah Hoden, the washerwoman for the Woolfolk family, washed Thursday, and ironed Friday before the killing at the house. She stated the number of shirts owned by Captain and Richard. The plain shirt in the court belonged to Richard. That shirt was on the bed next to the hall in the front room left of the hall. She flung it down there. The drawers in the court didn't belong to Captain or Richard, not like these. She showed the jury the difference. Don't know the socks in the court. Captain and Richard's socks were home-knit; these were bought socks. She put the clothes in Miss Pearl's room. One pair of the captain's drawers were missing the morning of the killing. The cross examination brought out the number of shirts and drawers owned by Captain and Richard, and some slight discrepancy between the testimony now and at the former trial. In rebuttal—The soiled shirt in court was put on the bed for Tom Friday evening. The jury was sent out by request of the defense. The defense argued that the assertion that the shirt was left on the bed for Tom was inadmissible, as the shirt was put there by order of Mrs. Woolfolk, who said, witness stated, "Leave that shirt for Tom to sleep in.

HE'S TOO DIRTY

to sleep in my bed."

Hardeman and Garry argued that the statement objected to is admissible. The court ruled it inadmissible. Counsel agreed upon the form of testimony on this point, and it was dictated to the stenographer. The jury was recalled, and the evidence agreed to was read.

Witness picked up the shirt exhibited, which he has testified was Richard's, from the bed in the front room on the left of hall as you enter the front door, the bed nearest the hall on the left as you enter the door. Mrs. Woolfolk told her to put it back. She did. The agreement involves the withdrawal of the objection to the testimony by the defense. The witness was straightforward and positive.

JULIA WOOLFOLK,

a negro, identified the hat in court as the one she bought her son, which was dropped in the well several months before the killing. She got the hat from Green Lockett's house, and her son wore it a long time before the other trial, when it was used in the case. The cross-examination failed to elicit the exact time of the hat falling in the well. Witness said: "Wern't no blood on his hat when it fell in the well, 'cause nobody there den for to git blood on it. Didn't go to church that night; didn't have meeting dat night, meeting done broke. Held s'ciety meeting Friday nights; held none that night."

George Caldwell had been put in jail for stealing the captain's ox. He came down the road one night before the boss was killed.

Question—Didn't Silas say Captain Woolfolk owed him money, was ahead of him, but he'd get even?

Objected to by the defense, and ruled inadmissible.

Witness was considerably wool gathered.

Jim Foster, recalled by the state—The hat was taken from the well when cleaned out the day of the killing. Gave the hat to Lockett by order of Mrs. Chambliss; gave it afterwards to Jeff Woolfolk.

Mrs. Sam Chambliss testified that she got clean clothes for the dead bodies; were not put down where they could get bloody. Next morning the shirts and drawers taken from the captain were split open, the sleeves, front and the legs of the drawers. Cross—Pearl's hands were bloody; fair size. The clean drawers for Richard were taken from the fresh ironed clothes in Pearl's room.

Jim Foster recalled—The socks taken from the well the same time as the hat, the same as in court. Cross—Bought the socks taken from the well. Dirty, worn out heels and toes like them in court. The defense objected to the socks as evidence. Overruled.

NAT BIRDSONG, BIBB COUNTY JAILER, called to the stand. The defense objected to him and the jury sent out. The admissibility of the proposed testimony was argued pro and con by counsel on each side. The court reserved its decision until afternoon recess to 2:30.

At 2:35 the court reconvened, and the jury again retired. Several witnesses for the defense were sworn and sent out until called.

Jailer Birdsong stated what his testimony would be. The court ruled that witness was competent, and his testimony admissible. The jury was recalled. Birdsong testified in answer to the prosecution. He had charge of Tom Woolfolk in Bibb jail; asked him who would get his father's property. He said: "My sisters will get the property, and at the proper time I'll settle that question." He said this at the cell door in jail. Described the jail. The other prisoners were separated by a wall from Tom's cell. One night, after the trial and conviction, he went up to Tom's cell as a precaution. Heard him say, as if in prayer:

"LORD HAVE MERCY UPON ME

for what I have done. The only thing I regret is killing my father."

Cross examination—He could have said something in prayer before I went up. Didn't hear him. The jury was again sent out.

Colonel Rutherford asked if the witness had heard other prayers of the prisoner professing innocence, and asking forgiveness for those who unjustly accused them. Witness answered yes. After argument the court ruled this inadmissible, and the jury was called in.

A recess was then taken until four o'clock by request of the defense, as they had not anticipated beginning their case until tomorrow. The first witness was called at 4:40 o'clock. R. H. Bailey testified that he saw the drawers at Jerry Hollis's. The drawers in court looked like them; mutilated some; didn't see the hand print of blood on the drawers. As pointed out by Hollis the stains looked like well used drawers. They staid ten or fifteen days in the plunder shed, where several men kept clothes. One negro boy had a suit there. Cross examination.—Elicited a slight contradiction of the testimony. Hollis pointed to the left leg for the hand print; had gone to Rutherford's room and reported something about the testimony; heard Hollis say he would not believe an angel from heaven if they said Tom wasn't guilty. His feeling toward Hollis is not the best. Hollis owes him several hundred dollars for rent.

Rebuttal—Witness dodged subpoena. Witness was badgered by the prosecution.

The defense asked that the state's witnesses, John Jeff, Dr. Holly and O'Conor, be retained at the court.

Emma Jones testified: Remembers when the Woolfolk family were killed. That night before day she heard a woman's voice screaming. One about fifteen years old screamed a long time

"OH, LORDY! OH, LORDY!

Heard a dog barking like it wanted to tear something every minute; heard jumping on the floor, chairs falling; didn't hear the cows bellowing. Half an hour after he heard somebody come out and call; heard somebody talking in the lane towards Mr. Smith's, as near to Woolfolk's than Smith's; tried Green Lockett's and Smith's. A few minutes after everything at the house ceased.

Cross-examined—Live half a mile from the Woolfolk house, on the top of a hill. The noise didn't wake me; was already awake. Everything was quiet at the house before I heard the calling.

Lowana Cooper lives half a mile from the Woolfolk house. The night of the killing heard the loud screams of a woman; was at the house door; heard the dog barking; no other noise at that time. Then heard cows bellowing. After a while heard mighty talking over dar; about half hour. The dog barked like running about the yard after something; kept barking a while; staid awake; don't know how long. Cross examination—Lib front of de Woolfolk house, top of de hill; cows bellowed like dey does when you kill a beef; quiet at de house; between the screams and talking, the dog barking all the time, talking was towards Green Lockett's, between my house and Woolfolk house; screaming didn't wake me; husband woke me to make poultice at 2:15 o'clock by plantation time—same time as Foster's. She was asked where did John Jeff say he was that night.

Objected to by the state's counsel.

Colonel Rutherford argued that the question was to connect John Jeff with the killing, to be shown by other witnesses, giving threats, contradictory statements, etc.

At six Captain Rutherford said the seat oppressed him, so he couldn't proceed. A recess was ordered to 8:30 tomorrow morning.

THE CASE OF THE STATE

is said to be stronger than at the former trial. Public opinion says the chain of evidence against the prisoner is complete and can't be broken. The prosecution has introduced thirty-two witnesses, whose examination has consumed thirty hours and thirty minutes. When Rutherford feelingly objected to the admission of Birdsong's testimony, the only lady in the audience wept. Madames Crane and Cowan were in the court a short while in the afternoon. During the afternoon recess Woolfolk regaled himself with an ice cold milk shake.

STARVING TO DEATH.

The Self-Imposed Fate of a Valdosta Prisoner.

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Monroe Hill, the negro from Macon, whose arrest for an attempted rape was wired THE CONSTITUTION two weeks ago, is in a critical condition in the town calaboose. It turned out that he was crazy, and evidently did not contemplate the commission of a crime. He was jailed last Sunday week. On Monday morning he was changed to the calaboose, as his cries annoyed the prisoners and jailer. Since then he has not eaten a mouthful of food, and is slowly starving himself to death, in obeyance to the example of his fellow-townsman, Adams. Hill can't be sent to the asylum, as our ordinary has been notified that no more colored lunatics can be accommodated, so the poor crazy creature lies in the jug and starves in a land of plenty.

WEST END NOTES.

Miss Hannie Frazier has returned home from school in Virginia.

Rev. S. Y. Jameson and family are visiting friends at Westminster, S. C.

Mr. W. L. Stanton, of LaGrange, Ga., will be shaking hands with his friends in the city today, but he will return to that town soon, as matters of a very pressing nature are engaging his time there at present.

The new Masonic hall in West End is elegantly fitted up and furnished, and has started off with bright prospects to become one of the popular as well as one of the most useful institutions of the town. Quite a number of visitors from the city attend every meeting.

Bricks are being delivered on the grounds of the West End Baptist church at the rate of about fifteen thousand per day, and the walls will be run up in a few days ready for the roof. Mr. O. L. Culberson, chairman of the building committee, will remain about the building, and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. The material and workmanship will both be first-class. All the stone usual above the foundation will be of Georgia marble, and the structure will be quite handsome as well as very substantial when finished. With a continuation of the progress and prosperity of this church in the future, such as have been experienced for the few months Mr. Jameson has been in charge as pastor, it will soon rank third in usefulness and influence among the many Baptist churches in the county, which would be a very flattering achievement for the young pastor and also of the young church.

An Editor's Experience.

Major Sidney Herbert, a well known journalist in agricultural circles, writes April 13th, 1889: Some five years ago I wrote a letter stating that Swift's Specific had cured me of severe rheumatism. Since that time I have had no return of the rheumatic troubles, although frequently exposed to the influences that produced former attacks. Several of my friends had a similar experience, and are firm in their conviction that S. S. S. brought a permanent cure. The searching power of this medicine is shown in the fact that it developed a scrofulous taint that was conspicuous in my blood over thirty years ago, and has removed the last trace of it. I have also tested S. S. S. as a tonic after a severe attack of malarial fever, which kept me in bed for three months, and am convinced that its curative and strengthening properties insured my recovery from that illness, as I was in a very low condition of health.

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed bids for the erection of a jail to be built in Thomasville, Georgia, will be received till July 1st, 1889. Plans and full specifications will be furnished if desired, or they can be seen at my office, where they will be kept on file till the date named.

OUTLINE OF SPECIFICATIONS, EXCAVATIONS AND FILLING.

Trenches for the reception of footing courses of foundation walls to be dug as required by plans. Bottom of all trenches to be level and stepped off if necessary to conform to required grade. Sewer trenches to be dug with proper slope to terminus. After foundation walls are up and mortar dry, trenches to be filled in with dry earth and rammed down tight. All surplus earth to be removed.

MATERIAL.

The foundation walls must be of hard brick to a height shown in full specifications. They must have footing courses 8 inches thick and 12 inches wider than walls. Brick must be laid in freshly burnt lime and sharp sand mortar, and carried up plumb.

SIZE OF BUILDING.

Main building to be 41x45¾ feet and two stories high. Front part to be used as residence; two rooms above and same below, with hallway below and stairway leading from said hall to upper story.

Prison part of said jail to be in rear of residence portion, two stories high, with office, dining room and four cells on lower floor. Four steel or iron cells on upper floor, to be constructed of best saw and file proof steel, with proper ventilation in way of windows, lattice work, etc. All floors to be of concrete and five inches thick on lower floor and three inches thick on second floor. Concrete to be 3 parts small broken stone and 1 part cement. Walls above foundation to be built of well burned brick laid in freshly burned lime and sand mortar.

INTERIOR WORK.

All interior work to be of iron as far as shown by full specifications. Roof to be of iron or tin or slate.

Contractors making bids will also make estimates of cost of heating residence and prison parts of said jail, both by hot air and steam, with the names of the system or systems proposed to be used.

Contractor will be required to remove all rubbish from premises and to deliver said jail in a clean and tenantable condition to the board of county commissioners of Thomas county, Georgia. The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. A bond for the faithful carrying out of his contract, will be required from party securing the work.

TO HANG

THREE MEN TO DRO... TRAP...

TO HANG TODAY.

THREE MEN TO DROP THROUGH THE TRAP.

What They Think About the Plunge Ahead of Them—The Preparations for the Executions.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Tomorrow between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, the people of Decatur will witness the first execution since 1858. Alex Henderson, the colored murderer of Amos Jackson and his daughter, will pay the forfeit of his diabolical crime with his life.

All the arrangements for the execution have been made. The gallows is located at a prominent place in the fair grounds, and Sheriff Patterson has thoroughly tested the rope by dropping a piece of iron attached, weighing 125 pounds, a fall of eleven feet. Forty armed men will form the guard. The condemned man will reach the scaffold by 12 o'clock. He will then be allowed to address the crowd for fifteen minutes, and after a prayer will be launched into eternity.

READY TO DIE.

THE CONSTITUTION'S representative interviewed the prisoner two hours ago and found him calm, collected and confident. He says he has fully made his peace with God, and has no fear of entering the unknown world. He bears no malice towards anyone, his whole nature being changed. Rev. J. S. Jordan, of the Methodist church, has paid him frequent visits, and believes his repentance sincere, and hopes that he has been forgiven. He told Mr. Jordan, in answer to a question, that his heart became changed last Friday night, since which time he has been at peace.

Henderson's demeanor is such as to inspire all who visit him with sympathy, although very serious. He is perfectly frank and open in his conversation, and appears to properly appreciate his condition. He was asked if he didn't want some whisky, and he replied no, but would like a glass of wine in the morning. When asked if he had pictured in his mind he replied that he had traveled about there a good deal in his dreams. He is loud in his praise of Sheriff Patterson and his deputies for their uniform and many kindnesses to him during his imprisonment. There will be a tremendous crowd tomorrow. Already the negroes are pouring into town, and it is stated that a steamboat load is on the way from Apalachicola.

WHAT ETERNITY WAS,

Will Debill's Crime.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Preparations for hanging Will Debill tomorrow are completed. The scaffold is in the hall of the jail, and so arranged that the prisoner comes from his cell in the second story directly upon the gallows. Debill was visited today in company with the sheriff, two negro preachers and quite a number of others. When brought from his cell he sighed heavily, looked around nervously, and said he felt weak and droopy. Settled down on scaffold and against the stairway, he weighed one hundred and ninety-three pounds, and is twenty-nine years old, and has a powerful frame. He said he did not want to get away; didn't think he could run if he did get loose, he felt so weak. One of the preachers asked him if he could put up a good prayer.

"Oh, yes; I can pray a good prayer."

"Are you willing to try?"

"Yes."

He then knelt and prayed for ten minutes. He prayed for everybody, the sheriff and other officers by name; wanted to meet them all in heaven. The prayer was a good one. After the prayer he recovered himself. He talks says he knows God Almighty, and that they are good friends. He does not seem to comprehend at all the solemnity of the ideas of eternal death and the Deity.

FAMILIARLY ABOUT GOD;

"Why did you kill Walter Long?" he was asked.

"I killed him because he didn't talk. I killed right, too. Walter was a very bad man, and I knew it. I was staying with him. He had a lot of knives, a pistol and a musket, and was a terrible fighting man. He was a small man, but he could fight like the devil. I came in, and he looked moody like and didn't speak. I knew hell was to pay, and I walked straight out, got the ax, returned, chopped him with all my might in the back, and then cut his head off and left him by the table. I am not sorry a bit I killed him. I am a man that does everything right."

"Do you want to see Walter in heaven?"

"I don't expect to see him there. You see Walter was a very wicked man. I killed him while he was wild and wicked. He went straight to hell.

I AM GOING TO HEAVEN."

"Have you seen Walter since you killed him?"

"Yes. That nigger came to me once, all in his blood. I never seen him but once. I have been a terrible, wild, reckless, wicked man, fighting, cursing, gambling, defrauding somebody all the time. I have been shot and cut time and time again. Thirteen niggers once arrested me. They cut me and shot me up terrible. I had only a stick, but I fought like the devil. I am a man. I never had any idea of being caught and hung. I thought I was a little god, and felt like I would live forever. I didn't mind killing a man a bit. I was mighty goodlooking. I knew it, and the gals were all running after me. I had a mighty good time."

"Have you any people."

"I have got a wife and three children, father, mother and brother. I haven't seen my wife and children in five years, and don't want to see them. Women will always get you into trouble, and I advise everybody to let them alone. My wife has married again."

"What is your real name?"

"My birth name is Joe Durr."

He then turned to the sheriff and asked what he was going to have for breakfast, adding that he had better not have too much, as he might not be hungry. Upon being told that we wished him a good night's rest, he replied that he would

SLEEP AS SOUND AS USUAL.

He then looked at the sheriff and said:

"Mr. Hurst, I don't want any bungling about it tomorrow. I have my mind made up and I want to go exactly at 11 o'clock. I don't want you to put it off and I don't want any mistake. I want to go now, that I am ready. I don't feel bad toward you; you are doing your duty. As they are going to hang me, I have given up, but it is a good thing they didn't send me to the penitentiary. I am a wild, wicked man, and I would have killed everybody or got out, but the moment they decided to hang me I gave up. My work was then with God.

GOD IS MY FRIEND

and will see me through this all."

Debill never used tobacco and does not drink. After recovering self control in the beginning of this interview, he manifested remarkable coolness and courage for a man talking of his own execution, and sitting upon his own gallows. He frequently laughed and entered fully into the interest in the graphic parts of his experience.

Charlie Cooper Cool.

LEESBURG, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Charlie Cooper is the coolest man in Leesburg tonight. He is a negro, and his crime is the murder of Nelson Brooks and his wife, Hester. Cooper, with a female companion, murdered the old man and his wife in February. He was caught the day after, and convicted in May.

When asked how he felt, he replied that all was bright before him. He fully believed that he was bound for heaven, and intended to have a good night's rest. Tomorrow could take care of itself.

HIS THIRD MAN.

James Ballew Killed at a House of Ill Fame.

MINERAL BLUFF, Ga., June 13.—[Special.] Last night James Bellew, a white boy, aged eighteen, was shot and instantly killed at a house of ill fame in Hot House district, of Fannin county, by a man named Olvey. They got into a wrangle when the woman ordered Olvey to leave. He left the house, but soon returned, and called Ballew out, saying he wished to make friends with him. When Ballew stepped out into the yard Olvey shot him dead in his tracks, and then made his escape. Sheriff Wilson is in pursuit, but it is thought the murderer has made good his escape. Olvey is a bad character, and is said to have killed two men previous to this difficulty.

ON THE TRAIL.

THE PURSUIT FOR THE MURDERER OF CONDUCTOR WHIGHAM.

One of Jim English's Dogs Secured, and Put on the Track—On the Banks of the Alapaha.

CORDELE, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The negro arrested at Sycamore yesterday proved not to be the murderer of Conductor Whigham, as was supposed. The man who was arrested resembled the murderer, but several who went from Cordele to Sycamore found he was not the man wanted. Interest in the affair has increased as the news spreads, and the whole section is now aroused. The authorities of the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railway have acted promptly and deservedly. Every effort is being made for the capture of the man who deliberately murdered a faithful employe. The negro is of bright color, rather small in size, and has a countenance which indicates a mean character. He came from east of the Ocmulgee river, where he has been at work in the camps of Mr. Stewart, cutting ties and where he gave the name of John Williams. A full description of the negro has been wired to a number of principal points in Georgia by the railroad authorities. In the mean time the negro is being

STEADILY TRACKED THROUGH WILCOX COUNTY.

A number of people are hunting in every direction, and there is hardly a person in Dooly and Wilcox counties who is not on the look for him.

Yesterday, Sheriff Holder, of Stewart county, went over into Wilcox county, and if he sustains his past record, the negro will be captured. He is leading a determined party of men who are scouring the country.

Last night a special train was sent out from Americus by the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railroad to secure blood hounds. Mr. E. L. Gurry was in charge of the train, which left Americus about nine o'clock, and arrived at Richland at eleven o'clock. There Conductor Gurry took a team and rode nine miles in the country to the convict camps on the Columbus Southern railroad in Chattahoochee county. Mr. W. S. Fisher, one of the bosses in the camps, gladly consented to go with Mr. Gurry and carry bloodhounds for the purpose of tracking the negro. At 3:15 this morning the train left Richland. A stop was made at Americus for orders, and at 7:30 the train of the killing. At Cordele the train made a short stop for breakfast. It left here at 9:40. On board, besides Conductor Gurry and Mr. J. A. Revier, supervisor of the road, were Mr. F. W. Forth, agent at Cordele, Mr. McConnell, of the firm of Allison & McConnell, turpentine men at Rochelle, Mr. John L. Cobbs, Mr. Fisher and the representative of THE CONSTITUTION. Mr. H. C. Horton had charge of the engine, and made the run rapidly and easily. By 11 o'clock the train stopped at the place where the shooting occurred. A large spot on the ground, stained with blood, showed where the conductor had fallen when shot. Near by lay a large log in the middle of a hole of muddy water. On this log the negro had stepped after rising from the ground and escaped. It is said he did not even seem stunned by his leap from the train. It is a wonder some limb was not broken. As it was necessary to have horses in order to follow the dog, it was decided to carry the train to King's Crossing, a station a few miles below. A negro was dispatched for horses to a farm house near by, and the train continued to Rochelle. There it was found every horse in town was being ridden

PULLED OUT FOR THE SCENE

IN PURSUIT OF THE FUGITIVE.

Mr. McConnell sent to his farm, near by, for horses, and agreed to meet the party from Kings Cressing at some point near by. The train then went back to Kings Crossing, and everything made ready to put the dog in pursuit. The dog is a fine-looking hound, and under splendid control. Mr. Fisher, who had him in charge, led him off a short distance, and placed him on the track of the negro, which he readily found. The party from Rochelle have traced him to the Alapaha river, in Wilcox county, and the dog is being waited for to make further pursuit. There is little doubt but that man will be caught by tomorrow.

The Murderer Seen.

ALBANY, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The negro tramp who killed Conductor Whigham yesterday was seen today by a conductor on a passing train at the eighty-seventh mile post on the Southwestern railway, making his way toward Albany. The authorities at Leesburg were telegraphed to look out for him. A posse of young railroad men leave Albany this afternoon to try to capture him.

A DESPERADO RUN DOWN.

A Running Duel With Pistols and Shotguns in Albany.

ALBANY, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—At about 6 o'clock this morning Supervisor W. T. Hargrett started on a trip on his crank car down the Brunswick and Western railroad. About six miles below Albany he saw John Coons, the negro who killed Constable Jim Hamlin, last Thursday night at Hillsdale. He was apparently journeying towards Albany. He did not let Coons see that he had been noticed, telling Section Boss Odom to move slowly along with his gang, and KEEP AN EYE ON HIM.

He went on to Davis's tank where he requested his brother-in-law, L. S. Price, to return with him and assist in capturing the darky. Procuring his shotgun they went back on the crank together. When they overtook Coons he was talking with one of the section hands. Price tried to hide his gun back of him as they sprang from the crank. Coons, satisfied that they intended arresting him,

DREW HIS PISTOL,

a British bull dog, and fired, shooting Mr. Hargrett through two fingers of his left hand. He started to run, with Hargrett and Price after him. The pursuers ran in a zigzag manner and at some distance apart. Coons would run a short distance and then wheel around and fire. As he would shoot at one of his pursuers the other would pull down upon him with the gun or pistol. This chase was kept up for nearly a mile. Nearly every shot fired at him seemed to take effect. At the shot made by price with the shot-gun he was seen to stagger and nearly drop, but started off a short distance, then wheeled again and fired. Price took deliberate aim with his gun and was about to when Hargrett exclaimed: "Don't kill him, we can arrest him without that!"

Coons sought shelter in a negro cabin. Hargrett took the shot gun, which had but one load left in it, and stood guard while Price went off after more force. The negro seeing Hargrett left alone, walked out of the cabin, pistol in hand, directly toward him. Hargrett drew a bead upon him, and told him if he walked another step he would kill him. He surrendered. By this time other men came up who guarded him while his captors came to Albany and notified the sheriff, who went after him, bringing him to Albany jail. Coons is a muscular looking young negro. He is terribly and pistol balls. One ball entered his head, one the left side, coming out behind his ear, another ploughed its way across his head, flattening on his skull, two balls entered his back on each side of his spine, penetrating the cavity, and it is thought that these will prove fatal. He is full of buckshot, face, breast and body. He acknowledges killing Hamlin, but denies shooting Section Boss Strickland a year ago, with which crime he is charged. He lies in his cell and

THINKS HE WILL DIE.

Two Worth county men, Branch and Pittman, who have been following him for a week, came to Albany this afternoon and endeavored to have him turned over to them. Sheriff Edwards refused, having no right to hand him to any one save the sheriff of Worth county, and not even to him, owing to his terribly wounded condition.

Quitman Sends Out a Carload.

QUITMAN, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Quitman got there by just 1,220 majority. Mr. Wilson Folsom, a melon grower of Brooks county, shipped to Chicago today via the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad the first car of Georgia melons. This shipment will be followed by half a dozen more cars before the week ends.

DEATHS IN GEORGIA.

Died in Senoia, Ga., June 6th, 1889, Judge W. M. K. Watts, formerly of Atlanta.

THE GEORGIA DENTISTS.

THEIR ANNUAL CONVENTION ON TYBEE ISLAND.

A Notable Gathering Which Challenges Praise—The Subjects Treated—The Ladies Present.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The most interesting convention of the Georgia Dental association ever held in this state will wind up its labors tomorrow, after four days session at Tybee. President White pronounces this convention as the most notable he ever attended in this country, and he is a constant vititor at all the important sessions of his professional brethren.

About fifty dentists are now in the convention. In addition there are a number of the members' relatives, and twenty-four applications for license. The association recognizes no diploma. Applicants are examined personally, and are required to prove their skill practically. For several days these neophytes have been exhibiting various degrees of skill in the aborigines of Tybee island, who submit to the inexperienced handling of the young professional aspirants. Today's session was well attended, a number of ladies gracing the hall and exhibiting apparent interest in the animated discussion of the valuable papers read.

After the transaction of the usual routine business, including the admission to the privileges of the floor the young men who have successfully completed their examination by the board for license to practice dentistry, J. R. B. Adair, of Gainesville, read a very interesting paper giving the history of the successful treatment of a number of unusual, chronic or difficult cases in surgery and on the regulation of malplaced teeth. In the discussion which followed many similar interesting cases were described by Drs. Holland, Coyle, E. F. Adair, S. A. White, Carpenter, Browne, Gale, Bozor, Colding, D. D. Atkinson and others. Dr. Holland has added much to the pleasure of the body, and Dr. Carpenter has won reputation by his share in the debates of the convention.

THE ST. SIMONS ENCAMPMENT.

Over Twenty Thousand Visitors Expected During the Week.

BRUNSWICK, Ga. June 13.—[Special.]—Only three days more till the encampment. Already both hotels on the island are full, and more than one hundred tents have been engaged by private familes. It is feared that by Monday every available quarter will be taken—cottages and all. Those who come later will probably have to spend their nights in the city. Boats will run back and forth every hour nearly all day and night.

The outlook is that we will have not less than during next week. An auxiliary and executive committee to look after the camps and visitors generally, has been appointed, consisting of Colonel W. E. Kay, Captain Barnie Dart, Mr. G. B. Flint and Mr. E. Brobston. These gentlemen will do all in their power to see that everything works off pleasantly and that every one has a good time. The rules for cavalry companies have been modified, so that teams of four men can enter for the tilting contest. The tilting days will be Thursday and Friday. Already the teams entered for the contest are the Richmond Hussars, the Liberty Troops the McIntosh Dragoons, the Brunswick Guards, and probably the Georgia Hussars.

PERSONALS FROM DALLAS.

What the People of the City are Doing—Personal Gossip.

DALLAS, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. Harton and her pretty and accomplished daughter, Miss Katie, of Odessa, Mo., after spending a few days with relatives here, have returned home.

Miss Lena Bartlett and Miss Gertrude Robertson, who have been attending school at Cleveland, Tenn., are at home again to the delight of their many friends.

Miss Laura Weaver will spend the summer at home, much to the delight of her many friends and admirers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wayett, of Powder Springs, spent last Saturday and Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Dr. T. J. Foster, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nichols, of Atlanta, are spending a few days in Dallas, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rawls.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fain are visiting friends and relatives in Atlanta this week.

ROME FEMALE COLLEGE.

The Commencement Address by Mr. P. A. Stovall.

ROME, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The commencement exercises of the Rome Female college took place this morning at the Presbyterian church. The attendance was very large. The music, under the direction of Professor Samuel P. Snow, was superb. Mr. Pleasant A. Stovall, of Augusta, delivered the commencement address. His subject was "Culture and Christian Character." The address was a most eloquent and beautiful one, and received unstinted applause. Professor S. C. Caldwell then delivered an address to the graduating class, after which President C. M. M. Caldwell, in a few well chosen words, delivered diplomas to the following graduates: Misses Augusta Davidson, Jessamine Mocklin, May Moore, Ava Oamberg, Sarah Rosenberg, Lula Smith, Lila Smith and Minnie Watters.

THE WESLEYAN COMMENCEMENT.

An Attractive Programme For an Excellent College.

MACON, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The annual commencement exercises of Wesleyan Female college begin tomorrow. At 9 a. m. there will be a meeting of the board of visitors, and at 8 p. m. tomorrow afternoon the exhibition in elocution by sophomore class will take place.

The programme for the commencement this year is a very attractive one, and as usual a large crowd will be in attendance. Already friends of the college are beginning to come in.

The commencement services on Sunday, 16th, will be preached by Bishop W. W. Duncan, of South Carolina.

The annual address on Tuesday, the 8th, will be delivered by John W. Akin, of Cartersville.

THREE PER CENT DECLARED,

But It Could Just as Easily Have Been Ten.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The Milledgeville and Asylum railroad today declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the capital stock of the road. They announced that they are ready to pay the coupons on the bonds that fall due July 1st, and have a handsome reserve fund behind. The road is in excellent condition, and President Lumpkin said this evening: "We could have declared a ten per cent as easy as a three per cent dividend, but we want to keep our reserve fund well up."

The Graniteville Annual Meeting.

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The annual meeting of the Graniteville Manufacturing company was held today. The report of President Hickman showed the mill in good condition. The election of officers resulted as follows: President—H. H. Hickman. Directors—A. B. Davidson, Charlotte; Hamlin Beattie, Greenville, S. C.; A. S. Johnston, Charleston, S. C.; R. A. Fleming, W. A. Lattimer, Augusta. Superintendent—T. H. Rennie. Secretary—Samuel Giles. Mr. Latimer was elected on the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Rev. James P. Boyce.

The Gordon County Courthouse.

CALHOUN, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—W. H. Parkins, the architect who planned the courthouse now being erected here, was in town yesterday and pronounced as good and secure the foundation work of the building. The foundation is now complete and brick laying was begun today, and the work will now progress much more rapidly than heretofore. When completed Gordon county can boast of one of the finest, most durable and convenient courthouses in north Georgia.

The First Carload of Melons.

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Valdosta and the Georgia Southern railroad scored one today. The first carload of melons billed in south Georgia was captured by the Georgia Southern railroad today. Three cars of fine, large melons were shipped in different directions. Lowndes county still holds the lead in melon markets.

IT WAS ALL FOR LOVE.

Mr. Mann Tries to End His Life by the Laudanum Route.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The assistant superintendent of the Belt line still lives, but it is not his fault. He swallowed a bottle of laudanum last night, but his friends worked on him all night and he will very likely pull through. A love affair was at the bottom of his trouble. He came to Savannah last summer, when the yellow fever scattered Jacksonville's population to the corners of the state. He was under twenty-five, good looking, had not neglected his advantages and was capable of filling a responsible position. He was deeply in love with a young lady of Jacksonville. He had not been here long before he was employed by the belt line company. The lovers corresponded regularly for months. In April, though, the young lady suddenly stopped writing without any explanation. Mr. Mann wrote repeatedly for a letter, but could not get it. A day or two ago he got a letter from his sweetheart stating that her father opposed their correspondence, and that it would be useless for him to write again. This was in reply to a fervid proposal. The announcement was a hard blow to young Mann, and he sent for laudanum and when he got it took it. Dr. Boyd and Dr. Oliver applied a pump, and his friends walked him several miles during the night. Today he is very weak, but the chances are favorable to his recovery.

FOR $20,000 DAMAGES.

An Important Damage Suit Being Tried in Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—In the city court today Judge Eve is hearing the case of W. H. Cummings vs. the Georgia railroad, a suit for $20,000 personal damages. On September 24, 1887, Cummings was at work under a car repairing the brake when a shifter engine backed against the car, running it over him and crushing his arm, ankle and hip. All of his injuries were serious and painful, the injury to his hip being the severest, and leaving him on crutches. There is no dispute about the injury, but the road claims that Cummings was notified of his danger, and his injury is due to his own negligence. The case will be completed tomorrow. J. S. and W. T. Davidson represent Cummings; Joseph B. and Bryan Cummings, the Georgia railroad.

Affairs in East Point.

EAST POINT, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The members and friends of the Base Ball club had a very enthusiastic meeting last night in the council room. The ground has all been scraped and rolled and put in excellent condition. The club has contracted to play Hapeville next Saturday afternoon, and a splendid game is expected. Seats will be prepared for the ladies, and every lady in town should witness the game and encourage the boys who are making every effort to give East Point one of the best amateur clubs in the state. Mr. C. W. Simmons will act as umpire and S. N. Thompson will keep the score.

Messrs. Blount & Bell have ceased to blow their whistle for a few days, in order to put in their new engine.

Mr. Walter Rogers, of Nashville, Tenn., has accepted a position with Messrs. Blount & Bell as bookkeeper. Walter hits the ball for three bases and the boys give him a cordial welcome.

Items From Tallapoosa.

TALLAPOOSA, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—We are getting some fine rains in this vicinity now, and the weather is warm and very favorable for the crops, especially cotton. There will be an immense fruit crop in this part of the state.

The Georgia Pacific has at last decided to give Tallapoosa a decent passenger depot. The foundation is now being laid. It will consist of three rooms, with a bay window in each room, office in the center and baggage and sitting rooms at each end. "All things come to those who wait."

The Fruit Crop Around Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The fruit crop is abundant in this vicinity, and peaches are cheap and plentiful. Mr. W. K. Nelson, a nurseryman living a few miles from Augusta, invited his neighbors to bring their wagons to his orchard and haul peaches to town, giving them half of what they received for them.

A Huge Rattler.

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Gideon James, a farmer living a few miles from this place, reports the killing of a huge rattlesnake on his plantation. The snake was five feet, six inches in length and had thirteen rattles.

United States Court.

MACON, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—There is being heard before his honor, Judge Speer, today quite an interesting case, to-wit: The case of Gibson vs. the steamer Alice Clark, Gibson representing the steamer Katie and her crew. These are river or inland steamers and ply between Augusta and Savannah, Ga., and along the Georgia and South Carolina coast.

It appears that while the steamer Alice Clark was making a trip and loaded with cotton, and when near the steamer Katie, fire was discovered in the former vessel. It is claimed that had it not been for the officers and crew of the Katie, the Alice Clark would have burned, together with a large cargo of cotton, and the suit for libel in admiralty was brought by the plaintiff to recover.

J. R. Saucy, of Savannah represents the Katie and Judge A. P. Adams the Alice Clark.

To the Point.

MACON, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The King's Daughters will have an entertainment tonight at the residence of Mr. H. C. Tindall. Object, charity.

Mr. J. C. Flynn, a very estimable young man of Walden, in this county, died today, and will be buried near his former home tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

The concert given last night by Professor Wetsz for the benefit of the Johnstown sufferers netted about $25, which amount will be turned over to Mayor Price, who will forward it to the proper authorities.

The police today arrested a negro who is thought to be Ralph Campfield, an escaped convict from the works of the Chattahoochee Brick company.

Will Hamilton was run in by the police today for having collected and spent money belonging to his employers, Messrs. Carstarphin & Tillman.

The notorious Jack DuBose will be taken to Perry tomorrow, by Detective Shackelford, to testify in the Woolfolk case. By an order of Judge Gustin Jack was brought, and has been held here for more than a week.

Who Will Be Pope?

Catholics the world over are asking this question, the importance of which is such that the Protestant world joins in the universal interest felt in the choice of the successor of Pope Leo XIII.

Pope Leo is very feeble and his age is against his recovery. It is, therefore, not surprising that the choice of his successor should be a matter of discussion in advance of the next conclave of cardinals, which must be called before many months. Indeed, it is reported that the pope, realizing that he can not last much longer, will soon call the cardinals together for the purpose of having the succession fixed before his death.

It is gossiped—even from the gates of the Vatican—that his eminence, James Gibbons, cardinal priest and archbishop of Baltimore, stands in the line of probable succession, and this suggestion is now being considered by the press of this country.

If the question were left to America to decide there is no doubt that the succession would fall to an American—and most likely Cardinal Gibbons, who, reverenced by his churchmen, is at the same time respected by Protestants, who admire his priestly qualities. But America plays a very small part in the conclave of the cardinals, Cardinal Gibbons being the only representative from this country. Italy is the controlling influence of that august assemblage, and since the reign of Clement VII, in 1523, Italian birth has been an essential requisite to election to the papacy. Indeed, the papal catalogue, as Catholics reckon from St. Peter to the present pope, is practically a constant succession of Italians, the list being but infrequently broken by outside choice, previous to the sixteenth century.

Of the sixty-six cardinals, thirty-five are Italians and the others come from all parts of the world. Italy, therefore, with a majority of the conclave, will scarcely allow the overthrow of a tradition which means so much to Italy. Again, should such a departure be determined upon, it is doubtful if the selection would be made from a country so decidedly Protestant. However, that an American pope would exercise a wonderfully strengthening influence on the church in America, there can be no doubt. To the cardinals, therefore, this might be urged in favor of Cardinal Gibbons.

It takes a two-thirds vote of the cardinals to name a pope, and herein do the supporters of Cardinal Gibbons claim that there is a chance to elect an American pope. International jealousies will, they say, render French, German and Italian cardinals ineligible, and in the confusion that will arise therefrom it is believed that Cardinal Gibbons may be selected as a compromise.

Stranger things have happened than that the Vatican should be Americanized, and that the robes of St. Peter should be worn by an American. This is in the direction of the general sign of the times.

A Blessed Gift.

The Johnstown calamity has shown how quickly the hearts of our people respond to the appeal of the sorrow stricken and suffering.

But the noblest gift of all in this case was not the widow's mite, nor the pennies of the poor. It came from a band of helpless outcasts, under the ban of society, and branded by the law. The prisoners in the eastern penitentiary, of Pennsylvania, when they heard of the disastrous flood, held a consultation and agreed to contribute to the survivors of Johnstown their small savings earned by extra work, amounting to $522.

These wretched convicts were not expected to give anything. They were not expected to be in sympathy with the outside world, and everybody knew that they would need every dime they had saved to help them begin a new life after the expiration of their terms.

A voluntary gift at such a time from these sin-cursed and miserable men illustrates the innate nobility of human nature. There is some good in every man, but it sometime takes a crucial test to bring it out.

Give the Girls a Chance.

Under this heading, Miss Julia A. Flisch contributes to a recent issue of the Augusta Chronicle an admirable article advocating a plan of practical education for our girls.

We have not space to reproduce the article, but it is well worthy the attention of our legislators. The state has recently organized a technological school for boys, and, under the wise and firm guidance of Dr. Isaac S. Hopkins, it has already begun its beneficent work.

This being so, what of her girls and young women who are driven to earn their own living not only by necessity, but by that spirit of independence which is as strong in a healthy girl's breast as it is in a boy's?

There is but one answer to this question. What the state has done for its boys in their particular sphere of usefulness, that it must also do for its girls and young women in their sphere. The state owes no more to its boys and young men than it does to its girls and young women.

That is a proposition that will not be disputed. But does it owe as much? The boys have inherited a habit of taking care of themselves, whether they have a special training or not; but our girls, in their efforts to make their own way, need the protecting care of the state. Georgia was the first community in the world, so far as we know, to recognize the fact that women are as much entitled to the benefits of a higher education as men, and the result of that feeling was Wesleyan Female college, the first institution of its kind established in America.

The great majority of the young girls who are now growing up in Georgia will be compelled to earn their own living, and they are entitled to the benefits the state has conferred on the boys.

If Mississippi can afford a training and an industrial school for its girls, why not Georgia?

The Behring Sea Trouble.

It is barely possible that both England and the United States mean business when they send war vessels to Behring sea.

The situation has not been correctly described in the newspapers. Our government does not stand in the absurd position of claiming Behring sea as a closed sea in every sense of the phrase. Our claim is that it must be a closed sea during the seal breeding season.

The Canadians are ruining the seal business by going inside the islands and shooting the female seals every month in the year. If the purchase of Alaska from Russia did not give our government the right to protect the seal hunting industry in that region by reasonable regulations we made a very bad bargain.

England may attempt to back her Canadian poachers with a show of force, but she will find that the government at Washington has very decided views upon the Behring sea question, and Mr. Blaine is in no mood to stand any bulldozing. Still, the matter is in a proper shape for an amicable settlement by arbitration, and it may take that course.

A Big Question.

Although we have already commenced the preliminary work on the proposed Nicaragua canal, the enterprise meets with some opposition in certain quarters.

The Baltimore American is by no means satisfied with the Nicaragua route. It predicts that the canal will be a failure, that it will cost an immense sum of money, and that when completed it will not answer the necessities of commerce. The point is made that Panama has the advantage of the best location. A canal across the isthmus would be only about forty-two miles long, and would be the most central, as well as the shortest route for merchant vessels. The Nicaragua canal will be 170 miles long, and is about 600 miles out of the usual track of commerce.

Under the circumstances, it is suggested that the cheaper and better plan would be to purchase the Panama canal and finish it at a cost of $100,000,000, or something like those figures.

It is a big question, with two sides to it, and during the next few months it is likely to occupy a large share of public attention.

The Republic—"Her Mark."

Some of the newspapers are printing a fac simile of the autograph of Abraham Lincoln's mother.

Plain Sarah Lincoln signed a document in a very simple and old-fashioned way. A friendly hand traced her name, with the explanatory words, "Her mark," and Sarah then made the familiar "X."

That one mark is an epitome of the history of the republic. From such crude and simple beginnings have sprung our culture and civilization. Humble Sarah Lincoln gave to the world a son who wrote his name in imperishable letters of light on one of the proudest pages of our annals.

It is the story of the republic—out of the depths to the highest place in the temple of Fame—out of the darkness and into the light!

BROTHER BLAINE has one or two relatives who want office. Certainly the Blaine family ought to be provided for.

BLOODY SHIRT FORAKER is to be a candidate for governor of Ohio again. He is a great man in Ohio and seems to please the Ohioans immensely.

EDITOR SHEPARD is in favor of running stages on Sunday where they will pay. Your truly good man knows how to dive for a dollar.

IT is a significant fact that all the men who are suspected of having a hand in the murder of Dr. Cronin at Chicago are republicans. A great party is the republican party.

THE sun is alluded to by Chicago editors as the orb of day. This is right. If we are to have chesnuts give us a rancid one.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A VERY BRUTAL AND unprovoked murder occurred near Memphis last Tuesday. It seems that John Stewart, a convict guard, saw a white man named J. H. Parker quarreling with a negro. Parker was drunk, and was in no way connected with the convict camp, and was outside of the stockade at the time. Stewart ordered him to go home, and the man started off. Stewart was not satisfied with his slow movement, and went through the woods to head him off. When he got a good chance he took aim and fired, killing Parker instantly. The body of the dead man was carried home, but Mrs. Parker declined to receive it, saying that she took no stock in dead men. If a man could not keep alive, she did not want to see him or have any thing to do with him. She ordered his corpse to be taken away and buried by the county, which was done. The murderer was arrested.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION has made ocean travel wonderfully cheap. Mr. H. D. Newson, 946 Broadway, New York, is advertising a special teachers' excursion to visit Europe the first week in July for $150 for a thirty-three days' trip. This includes ocean travel, railway fare, hotel bills, carriage hire and every necessary expense.

The excursionists will visit London, Brighton, Dieppe, Rouen and the Paris exposition. When a man can go to Europe and see the sights in pleasant company at such a small expense it goes without saying that many Americans will take advantage of the opportunity.

It will soon be cheaper to travel than to stay at home.

A RECENT HEALTH report takes the ground that consumption is not hereditary, but infectious. Its germs may linger in a house for at least five years, and persons subsequently inhabiting the dwelling are liable to contract the disease by breathing the dust containing the living germs. In Philadelphia, in localities where the houses are scattered the death rate from consumption is only ten per cent. In thickly settled localities it is thirty-three per cent.

BECAUSE WE ADVISED the Chattanooga Times to let Sam Jones alone, and because we said that some good people indorsed him, and would probably regard the Times as an enemy of religion if it attacked the evangelist, our contemporary says: "Our esteemed contemporary's advice to let the pulpit rowdies alone lest we be denounced as 'an enemy of religion,' might be turned round; we advise THE CONSTITUTION to cease applauding the vulgarity, obscenity, profanity and blasphemy of the Sam Jones school, lest it make itself amenable to the charge of moral cowardice. That Sam Jones has done much good we admit; that his exasperating abuse of people he pleases to call 'sinners' ever did any good we deny. We know that feature of his harangues has done great harm, and only harm. The Times discovered Jones as a unique source of amusement, and was first among the newspapers to report his speeches in full; and we would think more of our discovery if he were always a gentleman and Christian, and not too frequently a 'b'hoy' of the loose and flippant sort." The Times is badly mistaken if it supposes that we applaud all of Sam Jones's utterances. But it will not do to deny that he has a good and a generous heart, and that he has done much good. It will not do to wholly condemn such a man. His crusade against certain popular vices, although not in accordance with gospel methods, has undoubtedly led to the reformation of many bad men. It is something to persuade a man to "quit his meanness," and if Sam Jones is not entitled to our respect as an orthodox preacher, he certainly deserves some credit for the successful results of his moral lectures.

PROFESSOR DEVOE'S prediction of a terrible cyclone to form over Washington between Saturday and Monday, has drawn from General Greely the following prediction: "The United States includes such a vast area that severe storms, either local or general, occur almost any day of the year in some portions of the country, so that predictions of storms may be safely made if their limits are not defined. In not one case out of a hundred has any definite forecast for weeks in advance been verified, even in a general way."

THE REV. DR. ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD will have an article on "The South and the School Problem" in the July number of Harper's Magazine.

A CLERGYMAN WRITING in the St. Louis Republic says: "In 1789, when Washington took the oath, there was one church member to every 14.5 of the population, which would give a total of 2,000,000. In 1889 there is one church member to every three of the population, that is, 20,000,000. A hundred years ago there were not Methodists enough in the whole country to make up a camp meeting; now they number more communicants than there were then people on the continent. A hundred years ago the Baptists were persecuted and banned in the north and in the south; today they are foremost in reputation and in adherents. A hundred years ago the Congregational churches in New England were a part of the state; their growth and influence are the result of their disestablishment. A hundred years ago the Episcopal church, which was discredited by its tory learnings, and whose parsons were prohibited from drunkenness by statute, in this year of grace is, as becomes the church of Washington and Madison, a leader in good words and works. A hundred years ago the Presbyterian church was supported, measurably, by lotteries; these have long since disappeared as an orthodox source of revenue."

THE WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT of the New York Evening Telegram tells the following story which doubtless has very little truth in it: "Longstreet is bitterly remembered for his treatment of the family of ex-President Johnson. When in command of the confederate forces in Tennessee he drove the ladies of the family from their home. Mr. Johnson and his sons had crossed the mountains into North Carolina, and Longstreet turned the elegant residence of the ex-president into a small-pox hospital, broke into his library, a small frame house, where he had formerly worked at his trade and afterwards used as his library, and took from it all his books and papers and distributed them among the soldiers. After the war many of the books were returned to Mr. Johnson; but the one he prized most, the spelling book from which he had learned to spell after reaching manhood, he never recovered. When, in the changes of the war, Mr. Johnson became president, Longstreet gave the white house a very wide berth."

THEY ARE COMPLAINING of the intolerable heat in New York, and raising a fresh air fund to give the children free excursions to cooler places. The hot summers will yet drive the northern people down this way.

The West End Case.

Referring to some editoral remarks in these columns yesterday in regard to the capers of some federal soldiers in West End, Mayor Longino states that the federal soldier who was arrested was simply charged with being drunk. No other charge was made against him. No witnesses appeared to charge him with any misconduct. The prisoner pleaded guilty to a plain drunk—the only charge against him. It was the first soldier that had been before the mayor, and with the facts before him, and the prisoner's admission that he was drunk and had lost his way the mayor thought it proper to be lenient. He could not try and punish a man for an offense he was not charged with.

That the mayor did his duty, we have no doubt, but where were the citizens whose premises were said to have been invaded? It is said that there were two of the soldiers going around banging at back doors, and that one of them was shot at by a citizen. There was nothing to prevent citizens making a charge against the marauders, and it is a pity they didn't, for the offense was a serious one, whether the men were drunk or sober.

PEOPLE HERE AND THERE.

DIX.—The Rev. Morgan Dix, of Trinity parish, New York, offers to take care of seventy-five Johnstown orphans.

CUTTING.—A. K. Cutting, the Texas editor who tried to get us into a row with Mexico, is working for fourteen dollars a week in a Texas printing office.

LANGTRY.—Mrs. Langtry has written a novel.

SALTUS.—Edgar Saltus, the erotic novelist, is growing fat and stocky.

KANDAHAR.—Zotique Kandahar, of Chicago, claims to have discovered a potion which will change blondes to brunettes, and vice versa.

FIELD.—David Dudley Field at ninety is a good sleeper, strong walker, hearty eater, vivacious talker and persistent smoker.

The Port-Electric Railway.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Within the next year, it is solemnly announced, mail of all kinds will be carried from New York to Boston in less than sixty minutes. The capitalists who have been dreaming of establishing the port-electric line have almost perfected their arrangements, and, barring unforeseen disasters, hope to have the line in operation by that time. Even those who have been inclined to doubt the expediency of this nineteenth century scheme are gradually being won over to its support, and, while not believing that it can be put into practice in a twelvemonth, believe its ultimate success assured. Two hundred and fifty miles an hour is the rate at which mail cars are expected to run along this novel route.

Plans of the new venture recently exhibited in Boston show it to be like a small elevated railway, supported by a single row of iron posts, and running on an air line between the proposed termini. The car, a small one, passes in transit through curiously shaped boxes set at intervals along the line, and containing coils of wire which envelop the entire track. These furnish the motive power of the road, the process of transmission being practically instantaneous. Six electric stations, located in obedience to the demands of distance, grade and the like, will supply the electric currents from dynamos made specially for the purpose. At the starting point the wire coils are to be placed in close proximity in order to secure immediately the fastest possible speed, but elsewhere they will be wider apart, disappearing almost entirely where the grade will permit.

It is the opinion of electrical experts that this scheme, marvelous as it appears, may also be utilized in the transportation of passengers. Although the constant propelling force is productive of almost infinite velocity, it is claimed that such safeguards may be set about the cars as will make travel on this line no more dangerous than on an ordinary express. Indeed, many so-called authorities not only believe that this system will revolutionize the postal service, but they also assert that it will, before long, completely change the mode of individual travel. Who would want to move along at forty miles an hour, they ask, when six times that distance could be covered at no greater risk or inconvenience?

There is nothing truer than the now admitted fact that the dream of the enthusiast of a generation ago is the realization of the generation of today. As our children go skimming across the continent at the rate of 250 miles an hour, they will no doubt look back on this rushing day and think what rare old fogies we must have been, to be sure.

How We Make June Happy.

From the New York Sun.

We congratulate our esteemed and original contemporary, THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, on the series of smiling and harmonious conjunctions with which it has been making itself and June happy. Monday morning its city editor married its society editor. Monday night the city circulation man and the stenographer in the business office indulged in a wedding. On Tuesday two other members of the staff contracted marriage, but these two marriages were exogamous, while the other two were delightfully endogamous or intra-official. Great is Georgia. Ditto Atlanta. Ditto THE CONSTITUTION. The chances that any young men or maidens on its staff will remain single are smaller than a mustard seed. All through the building float the strains of violins, sighing with the breath of Mr. Joel Chandler Harris's

("Ri-tumity-tum, ti-rumity-tum,)
Love is the answer and Life is the sum,
Love is the loaf and life is the crumb;
Eyes to the blind and voice to the dumb;
Love, the sweet master of all things, is come.
(Tumity-tum, rumity-tum,)
Sing, maidens, his ophthalamium!"

We give our piece of cake to Colonel Howell.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Jumbo Nuisance.

"How long, O Cataline, wilt thou abuse our patience!"

"How long, O Atlanta, wilt thou tolerate the Jumbo nuisance, and throw the dignity of the city's protection and indorsement around the more than foolish course of Jumbo Hunter?"

A few days ago Mr. Cohen, the manager of Pompeii, went to the depot to take the train to spend the night at his home in Augusta. Just before leaving time he was "yanked" by Jumbo, who would listen to no reasoning, and carried to the stationhouse under arrest for "doing business without license." Mr. Cohen had previously seen about this very thing and pending the settlement of the question of his liability for license, had been informed by the city authority in charge to wait until his return Thursday (today) when the matter could be settled. And yet Jumbo, though informed of these facts, must carry him to jail! Fortunately he was promptly released and his trip was not interfered with. Suppose Mr. Cohen had not been so well known. Not being acquainted, another person might have been made to spend the night in jail.

Not withstanding that over $10,000 worth of material of Pompeii equipment was standing in the city, and that another performance was to be given, and that Mr. Cohen was amply good for any amount that might have been due, and that he had been expressly informed by the city authorities that the matter of license could be adjusted on his return from Augusta, he was compelled to submit to the indignity of being led to the stationhouse on Jumbo's arm.

How much longer is this sort of a thing going to last? CITIZEN.

Peaches in Transit.

ORCHARD HILL, Ga., June 13, 1889.—Editors Constitution: In your article on fruit transportation in yesterday's paper, you say that "refrigeration won't do for peaches. They rot down in a few hours after coming out of a refrigerating car." Now my experience has proven that assertion to be incorrect, and I believe that I have had as much, if not more experience in that line, than any grower in Georgia. If properly refrigerated—that is, kept at a temperature not less than forty degrees or more than forty-five degrees, they will not only carry any distance safely, but will last longer on reaching destination than the same peach would if carried without refrigeration, even if the unrefrigerated peach got in market in good order. A few years ago I took a carload of peaches to Cincinnati. They were delayed twenty-four hours by an accident, and missed an icing. They, however, reached Cincinnati in fair order, and were turned over to John O. Moore & Co. These gentlemen sold about half the car, and having orders for good peaches from smaller interior markets, they reracked the balance and reshipped it to various points. I remained in Cincinnati for several days, and heard no complaint whatever, and I am satisfied that if Messrs. John O. Moore & Co. had received any unfavorable reports, I should have known it.

Until we can get 48 hours from orchard to market I shall continue to refrigerate. The quicker the time, however, the better, as it lessens the expense and risk. If further proof as to the value of proper refrigeration was needed, I can refer you to the Florida strawberry crop. I am informed that on some days the Atlantic and Coast line carry as many as twenty refrigerator cars on one train, the result of the trial of one refrigerator car a year or two ago. I am also informed that California peaches, being much less juicy than our peaches, and therefore less liable to decay, are mostly shipped by ventilated cars on express time, arriving in Chicago in four days; but they are first cooled in stationary refrigerators to a temperature of 50 degrees. Their more juicy, and, therefore, better varieties are sent through on refrigerator cars. I am glad to see that at last the railroads are awakening to a sense of their duty to the fruit grower, and are showing a disposition to remove some of the great disadvantages we have labored under so long. One thing I regard as certain—if the railroads do not give us material assistance, this will be the last peach crop ever shipped from Georgia by her present fruit growers. Very truly, yours,

JOHN D. CUNNINGHAM, JR.

BRIEFS ABOUT BOOKS.

"IN THE WIRE GRASS," by Louis Pendleton, D. Appleton & Co., New York, is a charming story of Georgia life by a brilliant young Georgian, who bids fair to make a widely known name in American literature.

"WHEN AGE GROWS YOUNG," by Hyland C. Kirk, Charles T. Dillingham, New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. A sensational story, somewhat weird and uncanny.

"DICK BROADHEAD," by P. T. Barnum, G. W. Dillingham, New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. Mr. Barnum knows not only how to run the biggest show on earth, but he also knows how to write a good story. The boys will like "Dick Broadhead."

TANCREDI, by Dr. E. A. Word, G. W. Dillingham, New York. S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. A novel dealing with love, music, vice and crime.

"TREAN, THE MORMON'S DAUGHTER," by Alva Milton Kerr; Belford, Clarke & Co., New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. This romantic story of life in Utah will please a wide circle of readers.

"THE RESIDUARY LEGATEE," by F. J. Stimson; Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. A queer story republished from Scribner's Magazine.

"THE FIVE TALENTS OF WOMAN," by the author of "How to Be Happy, Though Married;" Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. Every young woman should read this book.

"THE PROPHET'S MANTLE," by Fabian Bland; Belford, Clarke & Co., New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. A dramatic story with a blood-curdling Russian conspirator in it.

"OTTO OF THE SILVER HAND," by Howard Fyle, Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. A spirited narrative for boys, profusely illustrated.

"MEN AND MEASURES OF HALF A CENTURY," by Hugh McCulloch, Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, S. P. Richards & Son, Atlanta. Readers of history and students of human nature will be delighted with this contribution to our biographical literature by a man who has taken an active part in making American history for the past fifty years.

BRIEFLY STATED.

Jay Gould is said to be in better health than he has been in fourteen years.

Blind Tom was not drowned at Johnstown, as reported. A change of date saved him.

The thimble is claimed by the Dutch as an invention of their country, but it is known that it was in use among the silk embroiderers of China hundreds of years before it was used elsewhere.

Mme. De Orian, a young Russian princess, died in Philadelphia last week, and at her request her entire wardrobe was packed in large trunks and sent to Johnstown. There were rich silk stockings, French-heeled slippers, silk underwear, silk, satin and plush costumes, and fine women's wear of all sorts.

M. Henri Rochefort belongs to one of the oldest of noble French families. But he has discontinued the titles, and as his sons are not legitimate, they can not claim them, so that when the pamphleteer and journalist dies they will lapse. Strange to say, the last of the line who bore the title, Henri Rochefort's father, died some twenty years since in a lowly garret in absolute poverty.

It appears that the astrologers of the shah of Persia have counselled him to remain twenty-five days in England, for some reason best known to themselves; and the monarch, with his suite of sixty persons, has to be entertained during that time by the government. The queen has definitely decided that she will entertain the shah at London only. The foreign office must foot the other bills.

General Lathrop, who has charge of the electrical machinery for the execution of murderers in New York, has received a letter from a well educated man in Philadelphia, saying that the writer is poor and out of work and that he had a large family to support. He had seen a statement that General Lathrop had some doubts whether the electrical apparatus which was to be placed in the three state prisons to execute murderers would destroy life instantaneously. If General Lathrop would guarantee that his (the writer's) family should be paid $5,000 in case of his death, he would submit himself to a trial with the electrical machine. A test could be made upon him. If the machine killed him the $5,000 should be paid to his family.

FOR FRUIT GROWERS.

Arrangements Made For the Handling of Small Through Consignments.

"The carload lots were provided for."

The speaker was Mr. J. F. Simons, the Broad street commission man, and he was talking about the Georgia fruit crop.

"The trouble," he continued, "was to meet the wants of the small grower—people that handle bushels and barrels instead of carload lots. That trouble has been met by the action of the executive officers of the Middle Georgia Shippers' union. President A. G. VanDyke and Secretary S. M. Wayman were both here. I will act hereafter as transfer agent in Atlanta, and all arrangements have been made for the careful handling and transfer of consignments."

This is important news to the farmers that handle fruit in small quantities. The uncertainty and slowness attending the transfer have kept the bulk of this fruit at home. The action of the executive board of the union in paving the road to market, coming as it does in time for the greatest crop since the war, is good fortune for the fruit growers.

SHOT AT A GIRL.

A Bold Attempt to Murder a Servant Yesterday.

About three weeks ago, at the instance of a negro servant girl, Patrolman Abbott arrested a negro whom he thought to be Tom Oliver.

At the stationhouse the man proved to be Charles Simons, and was released. He went away vowing that he would indict the girl and get even with her.

The girl left, and Mrs. Abbott employed another girl. Yesterday morning, while the family were away, she was cleaning up the kitchen, when somebody stepped to the window and fired at her.

Simons is suspected of being the man who attempted to take the girl's life.

FROM OUR NOTEBOOK.

Odds and Ends of News and Gossip Gathered by The Constitution Reporters.

Bidding Farewell.—This evening between the hours of four and ten o'clock, the Rev. R. S. Barrett will receive his friends at the deanery in the rear of St. Luke's, and bid them farewell before his departure for Europe. Tomorrow he will leave for Athens, where he will preach the commencement sermon.

Given to a Church.—The West End Presbyterian church has recently been presented with a very handsome silver communion service by one of the lady members of the Central Presbyterian church

A Visit to Etowah Tribe.—Yesterday afternoon Great Sachem Charles Gillett, Improved Order of Red Men, left for Cartersville on an official visit to Etowah tribe. He addressed the tribe there last night, and his discourse was of much interest to Red Men.

New Police Cravats.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. H. G. Womack, who does business at No. 15 Marietta street, brought an armful of new spring cravats to the stationhouse and distributed them among the boys. Today the patrolmen will all come out wearing one each of these, and the dudes of Decatur street will hide their deminished heads. Mr. Womack says that he has a corner on cravats.

To Meet This Evening.—The Young Men's Evangelical union will hold its next meeting this (Friday) evening, 8 o'clock, at the Central Presbyterian church. All men and boys invited to attend.

Reward for a Murderer.—Governor Gordon offered a reward of $200 yesterday for the arrest of the person who killed F. S. B. Whigham, in Wilcox county.

Pronounced It Good.—The commission to furnish the new capitol inspected the furniture yesterday, and pronounced it good. They voted unanimously to accept it.

The Collins Brick Works.—Yesterday morning the "mockingbird" whistled, and such were the marvelous effects of its warblings that Dr. Henry Wilson says the snakes came out of their holes all along the Chattahoochee valley.

The machinery of the new Collins Brick company was set in motion and work begun in good earnest. The machines will be running at full capacity in a few days, and another big enterprise will be added to the list of those that are making the city of Atlanta a great manufacturing center.

New Zealand to California.—Mrs. M. C. Clark and son left yesterday for San Francisco, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Clark has been in Atlanta since February last, from Auckland, New Zealand. She is the daughter of Mr. John Parsons, a resident of Atlanta.

Senator Brown's Condition.—Senator Brown was somewhat weaker yesterday. He suffered from the effects of biliousness during the day, but was resting very well last night.

His Arm Dislocated.—Yesterday morning Mr. Will H. Gibbs fell from a wagon near West End. The accident was caused by a wheel coming off. Mr. Gibbs's arm was dislocated by his fall, but his injuries are not serious, though painful.

They Elect Officers.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the West End Improvement company, held Wednesday, the following officers for the year were elected: President, Dr. H. G. Hutchison; secretary, Forrest Adair; treasurer, R. M. Farrar; attorney, G. A. Howell; directors, Messrs. Burgess Smith, T. L. Langston, J. A. Perdue, J. W. Morrow, G. H. Tanner, A. P. Morgan, J. A. Anderson and G. A. Howell.

The Capital College Entertainment.—This evening the little girls and young ladies of the Capital Female college give an entertainment at the Second Baptist church. The programme includes music, recitations and calisthenics, and a pleasant evening is promised. The closing exercises of the college will be held Friday evening, June 21st, at DeGive's opera house.

Thirty-One Years Ago.—"Thirty-one years ago," remarked an old citizen yesterday, "Crockett was hung here in Atlanta. It was a a famous execution; just such a day as this, exactly thirty-one years ago."

Twenty-five Young Lawyers.—An interesting and unusual sight will be witnessed in Atlanta next Thursday, June 26th. Twenty-five young lawyers, graduates of the university law school at Athens, will be formally admitted to the bar here. A brighter and more promising class of young men never went from the university, and the occasion is important no less than unique.

A Hole in the Balloon.—About 500 people were gathered at Grant's park yesterday afternoon to witness the balloon ascension. The balloon didn't go up because the professor burned a hole in it and it was too late to patch up and fill up again. The Zouave band gave an enjoyable concert. The balloon will go up Saturday afternoon certain at 3:30.

The Dog Wagon Stopped.—The dog wagon was stopped yesterday by City Clerk Park Woodward. There was no money in it for the city, and the dogs are safe for the summer now, tag or no tag.

A Nice Distinction.

From America.

In regard to the question of preference as between bachelors and benedicts, it is always pleasant to revert to the delicate distinction set forth by General Lafayette in a conversation during his second visit to America. He shook hands with eight thousand men in one day, says the legend, and used but seven words in all. He asked each one: "Are you married?" If the answer was yes, he exclaimed: "Fortunate fellow!" If no, "Lucky dog!" After a long levee, a friend asked how the general could reconcile his congratulations to wedded and single men alike. The Frenchman laughed, and answered: "Why, my dear boy, can you not perceive the vast difference between a lucky dog and a fortunate fellow?"

How "Uncle Sam" Got His Name.

From the Chicago News.

The term came into use in the war of 1812, and originated at Troy, N. Y. The government inspector there was Samuel Wilson, universally known as Uncle Sam. Whenever he inspected supplies furnished the government he would brand them U. S., meaning United States, but the abbreviation, being then new and not generally recognized, the workman supposed it to be Uncle Sam, the inspector. Afterward the story was repeated and got into print, and from that time the name has been facetiously applied to the United States.

Stay Away, Old Man.

A Salem, Dakota, newspaper prints the following unique advertisement: "If John Jones, who twenty years ago deserted his poor wife and babe, will return, said babe will lick the stuffin' out of him."

SOCIETY'S CIRCLE.

THE EVENTS IN THE SOCIAL WORLD BRIEFLY CHRONICLED.

The Gaines-Johnson Wedding Last Evening—An Entertainment at West End This Evening—People Here and There.

An enjoyable entertainment will be given at the residence of Mr. Richard Chute, on Lee street in West End this evening. Mrs. Bessie Miller Oton, the popular and talented elocutionist, is at the head of the entertainment, which is for the benefit of the West End Presbyterian church. She will be assisted by some of the best local talent, among whom are Mrs. Charles W. Hubner, Mrs. W. M. Scott and others.

The programme contains a variety of subjects, and will be both interesting and instructive. Mrs. Oton will give a costume recital, which of itself is sure to attract a large attendance, for she is deservedly one of the most popular lady elocutionists who ever made Atlanta her home.

Mrs. Hubner, who is widely known as a most entertaining elocutionist and reader, will also give some of her best selections, and Mrs. W. M. Scott will lend her charming assistance to the good cause for which the entertainment is given.

But the programme will not be entirely taken up with literary selections. The lovers of music will be as interestingly entertained as the admirers of elocution. A number of prominent musicians have volunteered their assistance, and some exceptionally fine vocal and instrumental music may be expected.

Late cars will be on hand to carry all who attend from the city. This will afford an opportunity of hearing the full programme, and it is expected that quite a large number of Atlanta people will go out.

Tomorrow morning a pleasant picnic party will go up to Kennesaw mountain. This picnic is given by Miss Lizzie Mable, of Edgewood, and will be chaperoned by Mrs. Mable, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Kemp. About ten couples will attend, and from Smyrna to the mountain the party will go in carriages, which will be in waiting at the depot.

A happy marriage occurred in Mainz, Germany, on last Sunday, in which one of the contracting parties was a citizen of Atlanta. They were Mr. D. C. Loeb, of this city, and Miss Frances Lorch, of Mainz. After July first Mr. and Mrs. Loeb will make their home in Atlanta.

Miss Ida Richards, the authoress, a handsome and brilliant brunette, is visiting the family of Captain J. J. Maddox, 416 Whitehall street.

Miss Alma Scott, of Canton, a lovely and attractive young lady, is visiting friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gentry are spending a few weeks at Mineral Bluff, Ga., for the benefit of Mr. Gentry's health, which has been very poor for the past few months, but which is now gradually improving.

Quite a number of Atlanta people will go to Europe this summer, among them Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nunnally, who sail for Liverpool on the 22d.

The Lithonia Sunday school held a pleasant picnic at Grant park yesterday. A goodly number of young people were in attendance, and the day was enjoyably spent in rambling through the lovely place, and in boating on Lake Abana.

Mr. Henry M. Gaines and Miss Annie M. Johnson were married last evening at the residence of Mr. Marion Gaines, on Linden avenue. Dr. Morrison officiating.

The wedding was somewhat of a surprise to many of the friends of the young people, though it was known that they had been engaged for some time, and that the ceremony was to be performed some time this fall.

Yesterday was Mr. Gaines's twenty-first birthday and a reception was tendered him at his home. It was accordingly arranged between the young people that the ceremony should be performed at that time. Dr. Morrison had been notified, and when he arrived, and the announcement was made to the assembled guests, it created quite a little sensation.

Mr. Gaines is a young man of sterling business qualities, and Miss Johnson is a young lady of beauty and culture.

The attendants were: Miss B. Burus, Miss Lizzie Roberts, Miss Sallie Roberts, Miss Mary Payne, Miss Nora Payne, Miss Maggie Payne, Miss Annie Powell, Miss Pinkie Walker, Miss Gussie Well, Miss Lillie Howe, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gaines, C. J. Camper, S. G. Walker, W. Richards, Foster Howell, E. C. Allen, W. H. Frizzell, W. D. Payne, Jr., A. M. Payne, J. Johnson, William Adams, Sam Wall.

Marriage in Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—Mr. Joseph M. Cox, proprietor of the Augusta shirt factory, and Miss Lizzie Whitman were married tonight.

THE RAILROADS.

The representatives of Georgia railroads appeared before the railroad commission yesterday and discussed the reduction of fertilizer rates.

The commission have not rendered a decision.

There were present Messrs. T. S. Davant, of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia; C. D. Owens and W. P. Hardee, of the Savannah, Florida and Western; G. A. Whitehead, of the Central; J. W. Green, of the Georgia, and G. L. Barnum, of the Georgia Pacific.

That Double Track.

The double track on the Georgia road between Atlanta and Clifton has been graded and track laying will soon be begun.

Nearly Done.

Next Monday the Georgia Pacific will be finished between Atlanta and Greenville, Miss., and the gate city of the south will be in rapid and early reach of the father of waters.

It Will Soon Be Ready.

The Columbus Southern railroad is going to be built right away. Enough of the bonds have been sold in New York to make the road a certainty. It will be fifty-five miles long. The whole line from Columbus and Albany has been graded, the rails and iron bridges have been bought, and the work will be pushed. Rail laying will be begun about August 1st, and a big effort will be made to put the road in running order by the middle of next autumn.

Gainesville College.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The commencement exercises of Gainesville college closed on yesterday, and it was conceded by all to have been the most brilliant in the history of the college. All the exercises were given to crowded houses.

Colonel Jones's military display on the campus, consisting of a prize, company, and skirmish drill was particularly attractive.

The declamation of boys and recitations of the girls both evinced careful training on the part of the faculty.

"Out in the Streets," prepared by Mrs. Fields, and Genevieve by Miss Callaway, of the music department, were both rendered to delighted houses.

The commencement orator, Hon. George C. Grogan, of Elberton, made yesterday one of the most brilliant addresses of his life. He was followed by Judge Estes, in a pathetic appeal for education. His address was more particularly to the graduating class and was much enjoyed by all.

The college for the past three years has been in charge of Professer R. E. Mitchell, and has been in a most flourishing condition, the enrollment the present year having been 250 students.

Sam Jones No. 2.

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 13.—[Special.]—The Rev. P. H. Crumpler, an evangelist in the Methodist church, preached some stirring sermons in Waycross this week. He is quite original in his ideas and illustrations, and sends the truth home to the hearts of his hearers in regular Sam Jones fashion. This good man has almost lost his sight, but still he goes forward with a zeal unequaled by few men, preaching the "unsearchable riches of Christ." Mr. Crumpler is certainly Sam Jones No. 2.

Relief For the Sufferers.

MOBILE, Ala., June 13.—The following telegram was sent to Governor Beaver, of Pennsylvania, today:

IN AND ABOUT ATLANTA.

EVENTS OF THE DAY PLACED BEFORE THE READING PUBLIC.

The Peachtree Park Sale Proves to Be a Success—Brosius City Soon to Be Built—An Atlanta Citizen Dies in Milledgeville—A Lost Boy Found.

Brosius City is what the Brosius Machine company will call the site of their big manufacturing plant. And the probabilities are that the new town will begin business with about four or five hundred inhabitants.

The board of directors of the Atlanta Improvement company and representatives of the Brosius, met yesterday afternoon in THE CONSTITUTION office and closed up the trade which had been agreed upon by Dr. Scott Todd, president of the Improvement company, and the Brosius people.

Everything is now in readiness for the commencement of work on the buildings, which will be done at the earliest practicable day. The work will be pushed farward at a rapid rate, and it will not be long before the country around the new barracks will present a busy scene.

Already in this immediate vicinity there are a number of manufacturing establishments and buildings, and in the next year Brosius City will be one of the most populous suburbs of Atlanta. Most of this population will be brought from the north and east, being a clear gain to the county and the city.

Next week the Atlanta Improvement company will offer for sale a large number of lots in "Forest park," which adjoins this property, and it is probable that the location of the Brosius plant at this place will induce a large number of buyers—people who intend locating there.

UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Governor Gordon Elected General of the Grand Army of the South.

Governor Gordan has been elected general of the United Confederate Veterans.

This grand army of the south was organized in New Orleans on the 10th of June, and Governor Gordon got yesterday official notice of his election as commanding general, accompanied by a copy of the constitution of the order.

The objects are of a social, literary, historical and benevolent character.

An effort will be made to unite all associations of confederate veterans, soldiers and sailors, to gather authentic data for an impartial history of the war between the states; to cherish the ties of friendship that should exist among men who have shared common dangers and common sufferings; to care for the disabled; to help the needy; to protect the widow and the orphan; and make and preserve a record of the services of every member, and as far as possible those of the confederate dead.

The officers will be a general, lieutenant-general, adjutant-general, quartermaster-general, commissary-general, judge advocate-general, surgeon-general and chaplain.

General Gordon will appoint a lieutenant-general and a number of aides.

The next meeting will be held on July 4th, 1890, at Chattanooga.

GEORGE OLIVER DEAD.

An Atlanta Man Dies Yesterday in the Asylum at Milledgeville.

Mr. George Oliver, the builder and contractor who was injured by the fall of the tower at the Jewish orphan asylum about six months ago, died yesterday in the asylum at Milledgeville.

The death of Mr. Oliver is a peculiarly sad one.

His insanity was a direct result of the accident of six months ago. He was struck upon the head at the time by a falling piece of timber or masonry, and this, coupled with the terrible shock to his nervous system, resulted in permanent injury to both body and mind. The blow upon his head effected the brain directly. The fall of the tower, in no wise the fault of Mr. Oliver, entailed a pecuniary loss that was simply ruinous, and brooding over this trouble contributed toward the final derangement of his reason.

Wednesday, June 5th, Mr. Oliver was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum. His health has been failing rapidly since, and Mr. Jim McGinnis left on the 7 p. m. train yesterday for Milledgeville. About half-past eight the news came that Mr. Oliver was dead. Mr. McGinnis will return with the body today.

Mr. Oliver leaves a wife and four children, three boys and one girl, the children ranging from seventeen to six years of age. Mr. Oliver was an Englishman, and came to Atlanta about eight years ago.

A DASTARDLY CRIME.

A Negro Assaults a Lady Near Ponce de Leon Springs.

An outrageous assault was made upon a Miss Burdette, a maiden lady, whose father lives near Ponce de Leon, on the outer end of West Peachtree street.

She had been to Ponce de Leon spring and was returning, picking berries along the way, with her little niece who had accompanied her.

It was about ten o'clock, and as they were walking along a burly negro jumped out from behind a clump of scrubby posteak bushes and assaulted her.

The cries of the frightened child, however, attracted the attention of some boys who were herding cows near by, and they ran toward the scene.

Mr. William Wright also heard the alarm, and ran to the rescue.

By this time the little community out on West Peachtree was in an uproar of excitement. Chief Connolly was notified, and sent Captain Wright with a squad of police to the scene. By the the time they arrived there was quite a crowd gathered, and the woods and fields in the vicinity of Ponce de Leon were thoroughly searched, but no trace of the negro could be found.

The negro is described as a low, chunky, brown skinned negro, and the police are of the opinion that he belongs in Atlanta.

HE DINED OUT.

How Mr. Woodall's Little Boy Got Lost and Was Found.

Yesterday, Mr. J. D. Woodall, of Barnesville, came to the city and brought his little boy Stewart with him. He left the boy at Kuhrt's, after chatting with a friend about Jersey butter and promising to send him some, and went off on some other errand.

When he returned, the boy, who is only about five years old, was gone, and a long search for him proved fruitless. The father went to the stationhouse and reported the matter and continued the search.

About 3 o'clock he saw his friend coming down Peachtree street, leading Stewart by the hand. The child had got tired waiting, and had decided to walk, and he had found his way out on Peachtree street when he was overtaken by Mr. Woodall's friend himself, who took him on to dinner and returned with him in the afternoon, much to the relief of the father.

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII.

The Benefit Performance Last Night a Great Success.

Yesterday evening was the last day of Pompeii.

From the beginning the show has been a success, and large crowds have attended each and every performance.

Thousands have been amused and delighted by the wonderful and pleasing scenic and spectacular effects of this magnificent outdoor performance.

Not only Atlantians, but people from neighboring towns and cities have swelled the throng of visiters to the great exhibition. But last night was the last and the crowning effort of the genius and energy of the indefatigable manager, Mr. Saunders Cohen.

Being a benefit night, one-fourth of the proceeds going to the confederate veterans' home, there was a large crowd present. The whole affair was well managed and superbly conducted, and there was not a single flaw to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

The performances of the various actors and athletes were simply perfect, and the grand and imposing display of fireworks that set the heavens ablaze, was gorgeously glorious. It was pronounced by those who witnessed it, the finest performance of all, and such a display of fireworks has never been seen in Atlanta.

The Pompeii show has been a success, and the people of Atlanta will unite in a vote of thanks to Mr. Cohen and his co-workers for a series of entertainments that have been as pleasingly satisfactory as they were novel.

PEACHTREE PARK.

A Successful Sale of Lots Yesterday—The Buyers.

The sale of lots at Peachtree Park yesterday was a gratifying success.

Messrs. Krouse & Welch were the auctioneers, and to them is due much of the success of the undertaking.

The sale had been extensively advertised, and as many people from other points were present as went from the city, making in all probably the largest number in attendance at any sale the present season.

A special free excursion train left the car shed at half past eight o'clock, and the three coaches were crowded, among the number being some of the most successful business men in the city.

When the train arrived at the grounds, before beginning the sale, an hour was spent in taking a general look over the beautiful park.

At the commencement of the scale, Judge John T. Pendleton, president of the Suburban Land Improvement company, made a short talk. He assured the crowd that there would be no by-bidding, but that every lot offered would be sold absolutely to the highest bidder, and that every one to whom a lot was knocked down would be required to stand by his bid.

Dr. T. S. Powell, who has a large sanitarium just opposite the park, also made a few remarks, in the course of which he said that it was the healthiest spot on earth, and that when one inhaled its delightful breeze, the lungs expand and sickness flees. The doctor was enthusiastic over the place, and his talk was greatly enjoyed.

Only a limited number of lots were offered for sale, and in all forty-nine were sold. They were scattered in various parts of the park, and the average size was 100x200 feet.

This is a list of the purchasers and the prices paid:

No. 74, S, A. Johnson, $122; 136 and 137, Z. T. Johnson, $144; 127, Mrs. T. S. Powell, $60; 40, Dr. T. S. Powell, $100; 140, Charles H. Orr, $70; 120, Mrs. Shropshire, $70; 119, Mrs. Bell, $70; 118, L. P. Thomas, $70; 144, W. J. Tucker, $105; 145, Mrs. T. S. Powell, $105; 146 and 151, P. H. Sellers, $151; 147 and 150, P. H. Sellers, $152; 148 and 149, M. M. Welch, $207; 116 and 117, Chas. H. Orr, $150; 114 and 115, George S. Lowndes, $300; 113, Harry Krouse, $222; 112, L. P. Thomas, $195; 111, M. L. Bidwell, $197; 88, L. P. Thomas, $105; 93 and 94, T. H. Willingham, $170; 54, T. H. Willingham, $190; 55, Mrs. Emma Fuller, $175; 59 and 60, George S. Lowndes, $230; 89, L. P. Thomas, $105; 84 and 85, R. L. Black, $215; 63 and 64, G. P. Gomez, $210; 82 and 83, D. C. Black, $210; 67 and 68, Dr. Vasser Woolley, $160; 69, Dr. Vasser Woolley, $175; 70, Mrs. Emma Fuller, $175; 76 and 77, W. R. Purtell, $165; 71, 72 and 73, C. H. Smith, $342; 179 and 180, Mrs. S. J. Purtell, $202.50.

A great many of those who bought lots yesterday will build on them at an early day, making Peachtree park their permanent home. The railroad facilities are excellent, and it is the purpose of the company to still further add to the attractiveness of this already charming place.

AMONG THE MILITARY.

Captain Jackson Elected Lieutenant-Colonel of the Fourth Georgia.

Adjutant-General Kell yesterday notified Captain Harry Jackson of his election as lieutenant-colonel of the Fourth Georgia battalion.

The election was held last Monday, but the returns were only received yesterday.

It has been generally known among military men that Captain Jackson would be the choice of the battalion, and it wrs thought that he would accept.

But he won't.

Immediately after receiving the official notice of his election Captain Jackson sent a communication to Adjutant Kell, in which he positively declined to accept the position, though at the same time he felt gratified at the honor accorded him.

When asked about the matter yesterday, Captain Jackson said that his reason for declining the position was because of his close confinement to business. He said he felt deeply the honor which had been bestowed upon him, but that to fill the position as it should be, would require too much time, and were it possible for him to do so, he would be happy to be of service to his military friends.

OFF FOR GAINESVILLE.

This morning the first detachment of the Governor's Horse Guard will leave for their camp near Gainesville.

Assistant Quartermaster Miller, and Private C. C. Mayson are in charge of the detachment, which consists of the horses of the members who will go in camp.

The company will leave tomorrow morning, and Captain Milledge is anxious to have as many members as can possibly do so to go up to the camp with the company, even if they can't stay any longer than Monday.

The Horse Guard will take a brass band along with them, and every afternoon a dress parade will be held.

Dr. Henry McDonald and Rev. Keff Smith will accompany the Guard, and will act alternately as chaplain.

THE ATLANTA RIFLES.

The Rifles will not go to the St. Simons encampment.

It was the original intention of the company to attend this drill, but a majority of the members are unable to leave their business, and it has therefore been decided that the company will not attend.

This will be a disappointment to the friends of the Rifles, as it was hoped they would go down and bring back first prize.

MR. FORD'S CONDITION.

Five Physicians Spend the Day With the Injured Gentleman.

The condition of Mr. Alfred Ford, who was so terribly hurt Wednesday evening, was a little more hopeful last night.

Besides his family physicians, Dr. J. C. and Arch Avary, Dr. Dan Howell and Drs. Westmoreland & Westmoreland, spent the day by his bedside.

His wounds consist of two fractures of the skull and the loss of his left ear. He has never recovered consciousness since the unfortunate occurrence that may yet prove fatal.

Mr. Ford has not been in robust health for some time, and being above fifty years of age, his chances for recovery are not so promising as if he was possessed of youth and perfect health.

Mr. Ford's wife is at his bedside, at No. 111 Marietta street—the old Wrenn house, where he was carried after the accident. He has been given the most careful nursing and attention that ministering hands and medical skill can afford him.

On the very day that the accident occurred Mrs. Gilbert took charge of the house where the wounded man is now being nursed, and but a few hours afterwards, Mr. Ford was brought there, hovering between life and death.

TO BE BURIED TODAY.

The Remains of David McNinch to be Interred at Oakland.

The funeral of Mr. David McNinch, who died at his residence on Magnolia street yesterday, will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from the family home.

Mr. McNinch's death was the result of a short attack of typhoid pneumonia, and he leaves a wife and several children to mourn his taking away.

He was one of the oldest citizens, having come to Atlanta in 1842, from South Carolina. He was a native of Ireland, and was for a long time connected with the Western and Atlantic railroad, serving as a station keeper just after he came to Georgia, and having been identified with that road in different capacities ever since.

AN IMPORTANT OPINION

HANDED TO THE COMPTROLLER BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

He Gives His Views on the Taxation of Banks, and Says That Railroads Must Pay Taxes on the Rolling Stock of Leased Branches.

Yesterday afternoon Attorney-General Anderson handed to the comptroller-general his opinion on the taxation of banks.

The opinion is built upon his construction of section nine of the tax act, adopted December 26th, 1888, which is as follows:

That no tax shall be assessed upon the capital of banks or banking associations organized under the authority of this state or of the United States and located within this state, but the shares of the stockholders of such bank or banking associations, whether resident or non-resident owners, shall be taxed in the county where such bank or banking associations are located and not elsewhere, at their true and full market value, at the same rate provided in this act for the taxation of moneyed capital in the hands of private individuals: provided, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to relieve such banks or banking associations from the tax on property owned by them as provided for in section 7 of this act; provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to levy any tax on real or personal property held or owned by any bank or banking association, the value of which is represented in the market value of its shares of stock. That each bank and banking association shall pay tax on its surplus and undivided profits."

He says that the section is a little cloudy, but the intention seems to be that of the property of a bank, including the surplus and undivided profits, is represented in the market value of the shares, such property and surplus and undivided profits are not to be taxed; but to the extent that they are not so represented, they must be taxed.

He goes on to say:

"If the property, surplus or undivided profits are represented in the market value of the shares, they are taxed in taxing the shares at their market value; but if they are not so represented, then they are to be separately taxed. If they are represented in the market value of their shares, it would be double taxation to tax them separately, after having taxed the shares 'at their true and full market value.'"

He says that the difficulty is to determine when the market value of the shares does represent the value of the property and the surplus and the undivided profits, and when it does not.

Section 15 of the tax act of 1888 provides that every bank and banking association should be required to make return of the value of all its property of every description, and of the amount of its surplus and undivided profits, and the aggregate amount of these returns should be added to the capital stock.

"It can then be seen how far the value of the property and the surplus and the undivided profits is represented in the returns, showing the market value of the shares. To the extent they are not represented, they should be separately taxed."

ROLLING STOCK.

In this report the attorney general passes on the "liabilities of the Central and Southwestern railroad companies to taxation on rolling stock used by them in operating leased or branch roads."

He agrees with the comptroller general that the exemption of rolling stock from taxation is limited to such as is necessary to operate lines of railroad to which the exemption applies," and says: "If they have acquired by lease, or otherwise, other roads not entitled to the exemption, they cannot supply such other roads with rolling stock and claim exemption from taxation for such rolling stock."

HE FELL IN A WELL,

But a Shock to Vanity Was the Only Injury Sustained.

An amusing accident occurred yesterday in the cellar of the store occupied by Couper & Owens, on Marietta street.

Part of this store room, including the basement, is used by Pause & Schroeder.

For the past few days they have had a young white man named Smith employed in clearing the rubbish out of the cellar.

Smith was assisted by a negro man, and thereby hangs the tale.

Smith is forever talking of his agility and strength. In moving boxes and in handling crates, every time his negro helper complained of their being heavy, Smith would look at him with contempt, and, shouldering the load, walk off.

He struck something that downed him yesterday, however.

While clearing up the cellar the colored boy came across a large wooden door lying on the floor.

He stooped down and tried to move it away, thinking that it had just been thrown there. The door was pretty heavy, so he called for Smith to help him.

Smith came up, saying:

"Shucks, I can lift that thing myself."

The negro was still stooping down, litting at the side of the door. Smith walked around to the opposite side, and catching hold of the edge, began raising his side of the door. The negro also raised his, at the same time stepping backwards.

The cellar was quite dark, and as Smith stepped forward he didn't notice the yawning hole at his feet.

The negro took another backward step, and Smith suddenly disappeared.

When the door fell, the negro thought that Smith had tripped up, but an instant later he heard a noise which sounded like a small Vesuvius proceeding from the bowels of the earth.

It was the yells of the unfortunate Smith, mingled with the splashing and dashing of water.

The negro was about as badly frightened as it seems Smith was. He finally mustered up courage, however, to go over to the spot from which the shouts came.

He soon discovered the cause of Smith's sudden disappearance.

Smith had fallen into a well.

The negro ran and told of the accident to Mr. Pause, who secured a rope, and with the assistance of several others, succeeded in getting the wet young man out of the well. He was not hurt, but his fright was awful, and his appearance still worse. He was covered with red mud and water, and his hair stood up on his head like so many sticks.

Nobody about the place knew of the existence of the well, and the young man's escape from serious injury was lucky, as the well is fifteen feet deep and has in it twelve feet of water, being walled with brick from the cellar floor to the surface of the water.

Police Points.

Sergeant Mike White is again suffering with inflammation of his leg, caused by an old wound.

Patrolman Moncrief is still disabled from the effects of Retter's pistol shot, and looks rather worn and thin from his long confinement.

Tom Oliver, who is supposed to be implicated in the murder of Ed Coleman last Saturday night, was seen on Whitehall street yesterday. A posse of policemen went in search of him, but were baffled in their chase.

The electric lights at the stationhouse have burned very irregularly during the last night or two.

Old Limerick is in town and has been in custody several times. He promised to leave town yesterday if Judge Anderson would release him.

A white man confined in a cell avowed his intention of committing suicide last night by butting his brains out. He did not butt very hard, and when he feigned unconsciousness Captain Couch gave him a dash of ice water that electrified him.

The white man, who was recognized as Manghorn, the escaped convict from Coal City, was photographed yesterday. He claims that his right name is George Atkinson, but that he was sentenced under the name of Green, from Live Oak, Fla., and has just finished a term in the penitentiary of that state. He says that he was born in Pennsylvania. People who were born and bred in the neighborhood stoutly contend that he is Manghorn.

Last night Sergeant Moss found a beautiful hound on the street and brought him to the station house. The dog is black, with long, slender body, trim legs and large ears, and looks like a typical negro dog. He has strains of both Redbone and Birdsong in his blood, and is evidently a very valuable dog that has strayed off from his master. He has on a collar with a white bone ring.

Lecture by Rev. M. J. Cofer.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, by request of the W. C. T. U. Rev. M. J. Cofer, of the North Georgia conference, will lecture at the public meeting 16½ North Broad street. A general invitation is extended.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

Charleston Defeated Again by the Pelicans Yesterday.

CHARLESTON, S. C. June 13.—[Special.]—Charleston went under again today, but only after a desperate and most exciting fight. The Pelicans seemed to wield the bat as if they had been weaned on willow bark, and although their error column show bigger figures than that of the locals their superb batting and splendid base running won them another victory. The game opened up well, Charleston scoring three in the first inning and one in the fifth inning, up to which point the Pelicans had been blanked. The latter pulled themselves together in their half of the fifth inning and batted out two runs, making a repeater in the sixth which tied the game. In the ninth inning Spies immortalized himself by rapping a ball to right field for a three bagger while Fabien was on second. It took O'Rourke and several hundred spectators five minutes to find the ball, during which time Spies waltzed around the bases and tallied, making the first home run of the season at this place. The ball didn't go over the fence, it simply hid itself in the grass. Over 2,000 people witnessed the game and unanimously voted it the most exciting game of the season. The following is the official score:

Chattanooga Wins in Mobile.

MOBILE, Ala., June 13.—[Special.]—Mobile still holds on with a marvelous grip to her weak places, second and third bases, and as a consequence received a terrific drubbing from Chattanooga this afternoon. The visitors only made one error and pounded Boone all over the field for a total of thirty-two bases. It was a regular Waterloo and the score tells the tale:

Jerome Park Races.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Closing day. The track today was hovy and sticky and so wet on the quarter stretch before the grand stand that laborers were set to work before the sport began to sweep it up.

First race, six furlongs, Stadlight won, Maximus second, Mucilage third. Time 1:22.

Second race, mile and a furlong, Racland won, Fenion second; only two starters. Time 2:06¾.

Third race, mile and a half, Eric won, Dibble second, Zephyrus third.

Fourth race, 1 400 yards, Volunteer led all the way, Brown Charlie second, Prodigal third. Time 1:23½.

Fifth race, mile and a sixteenth, Ben Harrison won, Bohemian second, J. J. Obb third. Time 1:55½.

St. Louis Races.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Track, attendance and weather good.

First race, seven furlongs, Irene won, Ernest Race second, Mirth third. Time 1:31.

Second race, three-year-olds, one mile, Vengeur won, Long Dance second, Glockner third. Time 1:43¾.

Third race, turf exchange stakes, $1,000 added, for two-year-olds, six furlongs, Penn P won, Starter Caldwell second, Watterson third. Time 1:16¾.

Fourth race, mile and a furlong, Caliente won, Gardner second, Blonda third. Time 1:58¾.

New York Club Regatta.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The regatta of the New York Yacht club occurred today. The sailing qualities of the various yachts were well tested. Of twenty-two vessels that crossed the starting line after 11 o'clock eighteen finished, and the race was over by 4:20. The Palmer beat the Dauntless by 10 minutes and 25 seconds. The Grayling beat the Sea Fox by 2 minutes 14 seconds. Agnes won because the Seela fouled her. Katrina again proved her superiority over the Shamrock by 3 minutes and 7 seconds. Hildegarde beat While Away by 6 minutes 6 seconds. Ciara conquered Bertie by 11 minutes 26 seconds, and Nymph proved herself the fastest of the forty-foot sloops and cutters. All, except forty-footers, sailed over the course, a distance of thirty-one nautical miles.

FOR MEHAFFY'S HELP.

The Generous Drummers Sending in Money for the Crippled Drummer.

The fund for J. J. Mehaffy, the disabled drummer who is being so carefully watched by Mr. and Mrs. Brown at the Providence infirmary is growing nicely.

Another purse came yesterday to THE CONSTITUTION.

With these purses came touching letters—letters which show how open-hearted and generous the drummers are.

Whack Bailey promises to raise the biggest purse Mr. Mehaffy will get.

Here is the letter which came with yesterday's purse:

EUFAULA, Ala., June 12, 1889.—Atlanta Constitution: Please add within check and postoffice order for $11 to the McHaffy fund. I shall continue to work for the purpose, and the inclosed list will show what a little effort will do. Would suggest that the other boys do likewise. God forbid, that an honorable, disabled drummer should ever be compelled to enter the almshouse. With best wishes for your worthy paper and earnest prayers for his, Mehaffy's recovery, I am, very truly yours,

A. F. POUND,
Atlanta Traveling Man.

We, the undersigned traveling men, cheerfully donate the amount opposite our names to help defray the expenses of J. J. Mahaffy, now disabled and lying helpless at Providence infirmary, at Atlanta, Ga.:

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The stock market today was comparatively quiet, less than a dozen stocks furnishing about seven-eighths of the entire business done, while the temper of dealings was reactionary throughout the day, and while final changes are generally insignificant they are in all but a few instances in the direction of lower figures. Buying in general was good and the feeling was rather bullish, but the realizing tendency was uppermost for the time being, and the offerings of stocks was sufficient to sag the list off slowly. The only stock showing any real animation was New England. There was a spurt of over ten per cent in the price of New Haven from its last recorded sale and it touched 265, which was said to be on the passage of a bill in the Connecticut legislature permitting that road to increase its capital stock, which was interpreted in some quarters as equivalent to permission to purchase New England. But aside from that the news of the day in regard to the latter road was very favorable. That stock moved up steadily and rose over 3 per cent, finally closing at its best figures. Coalers were much less prominent in the market than of late, and the same may be said of grangers. The news from the west was of a neutral character, and operators in those stocks seem to be waiting. There were no marked movements in the low priced shares, and trusts, with the exception of lead, were quiet. Selling in the lead trust was very marked and the price was forced off about one per cent. The market at the close was still barely steady at fractional declines for the day. Total sales of listed shares reached 224,000. The final changes are generally in the direction of lower figures, but the only important difference is in New England, which is up 3¼ per cent.

Exchange quiet and steady at 488@489¼. Money easy at 2@2½. Subtreasury balances: Coin $151,004,000; currency, $18,341,000. Governments dull but steady: 4s 120; 4½s 106¾. State bonds dull but firm.

NEW YORK, June 13.—[Special.]—Henry Clews & Co.'s circular on the cotton market today says: We had better reports from Liverpool this morning than were anticipated, and, while they caused a little support to be given the market at the opening, we have again encountered large selling orders from weak holders and those whose exhausted margins compelled liquidation. There was a moderate demand for spot cotton in Liverpool with sales of 8,000 bales at unchanged quotations. Futures were quiet, and showed a decline of only 1-64@2-64, closing steady at these figures. In our market the early months were 2 points up at the opening, while the late deliveries showed a gain of 1 point, after which there was a further gain of 1 point in the summer months. The steady selling out sent this crop down 4 points, the late months sympathizing to the extent of 2 points. There was also more disposition shown to sell the next crop, as there is an improvement in the character of advices being received. At the close the market is quiet and steady at a decline of 1@2 points as compared with last night's prices. Spot cotton is easy at 11 3-16c for middling with sales of 988 bales for consumption. The committee on revision did not alter the quotations at their meeting yesterday, and the ridiculous differences in the value of the various grades will consequently stand for another month. The southern markets are steady at unchanged quotations. We are receiving inquiries from the south in regard to the purchases of spot cotton, and it is very evident that they must come to our market for their supplies, as there is little cotton to be had in the south at any fair price.

The following is the consolidated comparative statement.

JOHN S. ERNEST.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13—[Special.]—Glenny & Violett, in their cotton circular today, say: Liverpool opened and closed 1-64 better than yesterday. The drouth seems to be practically broken and yet the new crop months seem to hold very well. New York improved slightly today, but it later declined, closing the same as yesterday. We close four points higher on summer and two points on later months. June and July here are thirteen and five points higher, respectively than the same months in New York, showing the differences where the certificate rule exists and where it does not. July contracts there represent middling on a basis of 10 9-16, whereas middling is officially quoted at 11 3-16. Spots here are steady; sales 350 bales with good demand prices advanced ¼c; middling 10¾c and held higher.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, June 13—Wheat was active and unsettled but strong and closed firm. June was quiet closed ⅛c lower than yesterday. July opened weak and ½@¾c lower, advanced 1⅜c, receded ¾c and closed about ⅜c above yesterday. August and September opened a shade lower, advanced 1¼@1⅜c and closed ½ higher. December was ⅜c lower at the opening, advanced 1⅜c and closed ⅞c higher than yesterday.

Corn was remarkably active and easier, closing ⅜@⅝c lower than yesterday.

Oats were fairly active but weaker, closing ⅛@⅜c lower.

Hog products were dull, and the demand was limited, July and September monopolized the business.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY. TO the superior court of said county. The petition of T. B. Neal, W. L. Abbott, W. J. Bradwell, A. F. Pendell, E. H. Stearns, Joseph F. Gatins, W. L. McGill, B. M. Woolley, and others, their associates, show that they desire to be incorporated for twenty years as a body corporate, under the name and style of

THE WASHINGTON HEIGHTS IMPROVEMENT COMPANY:

The object of said association is to be pecuniary gain to be obtained by means of carrying on the particular business of buying, improving, grading, building on, draining, selling, exchanging, and leasing real estate, and borrowing and lending money, and doing such other acts and things, and making such other contracts as are necessary, incident, or convenient to the things and acts above enumerated, and to these ends petitioners pray for the power to do said acts in their corporate capacity, and especially to lay off streets and alleys in their own property, and contract for the dedication of streets and alleys by other persons, and to give and take security for money borrowed by or lent by them, and to do all said acts and things, both principal and incidental, as fully and extensively as natural persons may, and that the enumeration herein of particular incidental powers be not construed as exclusive of such others as would otherwise, and but for said enumeration, be legally construed to be necessary, incidental, or convenient.

The amount of capital is to be fifty thousand dollars, of which twenty-five thousand is already actually paid in. Their place of business is to be in Fulton county, Georgia, but petitioners pray that they may have the power to increase said capital stock by a majority vote of their stock, each stockholder voting as many times as he owns shares of stock to any amount not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars. Petitioners further pray for the usual powers of corporations under the laws of Georgia, especially those enumerated in section 1679 of the book known as the code of 1882.

Wherefore, these premises being considered, your petitioners pray for an order of incorporation for themselves and associates, with the powers, rights, and liabilities, and upon the terms and conditions aforesaid, and for the length of time named.

COMMISSION.

Georgia Farmers, Attention.

You have a big crop of peaches this year.

Prices are low. In many sections it will not pay to ship them to market.

In two or three weeks they will be a drug in the market.

We advise you to put every hand that you can spare from your crops to peeling and drying peaches. Dried peaches always sell for fair prices, provided they are peeled,

We have orders for 200,000 pounds.

We will buy all you put up, at living prices.

Tell your neighbors about this. We can handle all the peeled dried peaches in Georgia. Write to us.

FAIR CANDIDATES

FOR THE POSITION OF PRINCIPAL IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

A Very Interesting Question for the Board of Education to Settle—Lady Principals Will Probably Be Elected in Two More Schools—Members of the Board Interviewed on the Subject.

Lady principals for the white grammar schools?

That's an interesting question which is being talked about a good deal at present, and seems to be growing in importance daily.

The question is fraught with additional interest just now from the fact that on the Saturday succeeding the examinations in the public schools of Atlanta the board of education will meet, and, in addition to filling a number of teachers' places, will proceed to elect a principal of Ira street school.

Ira has grown steadily and has now developed into a full eight grade school. The principal's place will be in the nature of an educational plum, the salary being $1,410 per annum.

There are several lady candidates for the position, and the outlook is that a lady will be elected to fill it.

Heretofore, with the single exception of the Calhoun street school, these positions have always been filled by men. Up to the time that Calhoun was made a full grade school, this had been the case. But Mrs. Echols began when it was a three grade school and went up as each grade was added, and when, in accordance with custom, a man would have been elected, Mrs. Echols developed wonderful strength, became a competitor for the position of principal, and after several exciting contests, was elected.

This precedent has had the effect of broadening the ambition of lady teachers in the white grammar schools, and now that another school is about to be made full grade, a number of the fair instructors have announced themselves as candidates for the principalship, and are making a vigorous personal canvass. Their mode of electioneering differs from that of men candidates in that the fair candidates show far more tenacity of purpose and insist upon immediate and more direct answers to the questions propounded to the members of the board.

The grave question with which the board of education will soon be confronted is rendered graver by the fact that Mr. Floyd, the principal of Crew street school—one of the best principals to be found anywhere—will in all probability be elected superintendent of the Montgomery city schools tomorrow.

In the event of his election another vacancy will thus be created, and it is well understood that a number of lady candidates will contest for the principalship of Crew street school.

If the ladies succeed in getting elected to these positions, three out of the seven full grade white grammar schools in Atlanta will be under the control of the fair sex and the four gentlemen principals will have to look out for their laurels.

But this is not all.

The Boulevard school and the Davis street school are rapidly advancing to the stage when they will be made full grade schools. It will then be in order to elect two more principals. The lady teachers in these schools are in the line of promotion, and it is perfectly reasonable to predict that, encouraged by the example and stimulated by the success of their charming predecessors, some of them will enter the lists for these positions.

When Boulevard and Davis street schools become full grade there will be nine white grammar schools in the city, and in the event of ladies being elected to all the places indicated, Atlanta would have five ladies pricipals and four gentlemen principals in the public schools.

The question naturally hobs up:

"Where would this thing stop?"

Next fall three members of the board of education are to be elected. It will be remembered that in the city of New York, Mayor Grace appointed two ladies as members of the board of education on the ground that they were better capable of representing a majority of the employes in the public schools than men—that they would be more watchful than men and could talk to the teachers of their own sex more freely, and find out more about the general conduct of the schools.

It is also true that a number of the smaller cities of Illinois have ladies as superintendents of education.

In the public schools of Atlanta there are one hundred and eight lady teachers and about half a dozen gentlemen teachers.

The time may come when ladies will aspire to membership in the board of education and to to the superintendency of the schools.

"As a rule," said Mr. W. A. Hemphill, president of the board of education, "I am against the election of lady principals in full grade schools, because I don't think they can manage boys as well as men. But there are exceptional cases. Where a lady has superior ability as a teacher, and possesses a very strong character, it strikes me that there is no objection to making her principal of a full grade school."

"I can see no reason," said Mayor Glenn, "why a lady who is thoroughly competent and of strong character should not be elected principal of a grammar school. A great many ladies have to seek some kind of employment, and I think that teaching is about the best field offered for the exercise of their talents in earning a livelihood. Yes, sir, I am in favor of putting them in as principals when they are competent and possess strong character."

This is one of the most charming months of the year. Get yourself into condition to enjoy it to the utmost by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best spring medicine. Sold by druggists.

Headache and Dyspepsia.

William E. Rockwell, No. 512 West 57th street, New York, says:

"I have been a martyr to bilious headache and dyspepsia. Any indiscretion in diet, overfatigue or cold, brings on a fit of indigestion, to be followed by a headache lasting two or three days at a time. I think I must have tried over twenty different remedies, which were recommended as certain cures by loving friends, but it was no use. Like the Irishman I got no better very fast. At last I thought I would take a simple course of purgative with BRANDRETH'S PILLS. For the first week I took two Pills every other night, then one pill for thirty nights; in that time I gained three pounds in weight, and never have had an ache or pain since."

EDGEWOOD AVENUE ALIVE.

Men Working on the Whole Length of the Street—Paving Begins Today.

Edgewood avenue is alive with men. They are strung along in squads over the whole length of the line from Pryor street to Inman park.

The double track electric railway is about complete, and the ditch for the gas main is being rapidly closed up. Paving will begin at once, and Venable brothers and Foster's men will go on the street today.

Some interesting work will be done on the street today—the moving of the Wurm front, for instance. Twenty men are excavating a basement, other squads laying the gas main and clearing away obstacles before the paving gangs.

In the distance men are at work on houses in Inman park. Altogether, it is a busy and an inspiring scene.

Inherited Blood Poison.

How many people there are whose distress from sores, aches, pains and eruptive tendencies are du to inherited blood poison. Bad blood passes from parent to child, and it therefore is the duty of husband and wife to keep their blood pure. This is easily accomplished by a timely use of B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm). Send to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, for book of most convincing proof.

James Hill, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "My two sons were afflicted with blood poison, which doctors said was hereditary. They both broke out in sores and eruptions which B. B. B. promptly controlled and finally cured completely."

Mrs. S. M. Williams, Sandy, Texas, writes: "My three poor afflicted children, who inherited blood poison, have improved rapidly after a use of B. B. B. It is a Godsend."

J. R. Wilson, Glen Alpine Station, N. C., Feb. 13, 1885, writes: "Bone and blood poison forced me to have my leg amputated, and on the stump there came a large ulcer, which grew worse every day until doctors gave me up to die. I only weighed 120 pounds when I began to take B. B. B., and 12 bottles increased my weight to 180 pounds and made me sound and well. I never knew what good health was before." w

Sullivan's Best, Free and Easy and No. 1 at Harralson Bros. & Co.

There is nothing finer than a plate of our delicious strawberry ice cream, it is made from the whole crushed berry and is delightful. Our cream still continues to grow in popularity as our heavy orders will testify since we commenced its introduction. We have dispensed nearly 1,000 gallons in one month and would double up on this amount if the people thoroughly understood its merit. We have all the flavors, such as Pistachio, Vanilla, Lemon, Chocolate, Strawberry, and if notice is given one day in advance we can furnish any flavor desired. We will furnish from one quart and as many gallons desired, and deliver any time. We have had as many as seventy-eight orders to deliver on Sunday and will make it 100 for this coming Sunday. For weddings or entertainments or shipping order we will pack so as to remain frozen for twelve hours, it can then be repacked with ice and can be kept as long as desired by continual repacking. If you have never tried our cream be sure and send us in your order for Sunday delivery.

Our grocery trade still continues to grow, we run continually five wagons to deliver our goods in the city. We run one extra wagon two daily trips to Fort McPherson to supply our garrison trade and if it is necessary will add more to insure prompt delivery. We have recently added 400 customers to our immense business. One inducement held out to our patrons aside from low prices is fresh goo Our continual large sales insure this, and customers will do well to note the vast difference in quality when fresh goods are received. We are receiving daily shipments at present of fancy peaches, red raspberries and other fresh fruits. We still have more room for desirable customers and solicit the patronage of those who want the best, fresh groceries. Our fresh Jersey butter still stands unequalled without comparison and we ask you to come and test it. One trial will convince those customers who pay 50 cents for their Jersey butter that they are wasting fifty per cent of their cash expended for butter. Come over and see us. We are the leaders and ask a trial. Very respectfully,
HOYT & THORN,

BIG JERSEY SALE!

Athens, Ga.

The Hollydale Stock
FARM

Has Decided to close out the entire Herd of Jerseys, numbering about

ONE HUNDRED

Of the Finest Cattle Ever Seen in the Southern States.

This sale will take place on June 20th, at the farm just in the suburbs of the city of Athens. Terms cash, or payable in the fall, with bankable notes, with 8 per cent interest. Owing to the great number and varieties of families represented, it will be impossible to mention in detail the many meritorious qualities of all, they are either registered or subject to registry, and the announcement will be made fully on day of sale. The bull that stands at the head of this famous herd is "Rubana Ricter," one of the grandest inbred Stoke-Pogis Victor Hugo bulls in America today, possessing 96¾ per cent of the blood of Mary Ann, of St. Lambert, and 87½ per cent of the blood of Ida, of St. Lambert. He is the sire of nearly all the young cows and heifers, making crosses on the Comassie, Scituate, Eurotos and various other families of prominence in the Jersey world, and a more promising set of young cows and heifers never entered a prize ring.

In this herd can be mentioned "Alice Jones" 31 pounds in seven days, now dead, though a number of her progeny show her to have been a most wonderful cow. "Laughing Maid," sold to a celebrated Tennessee herd with her great record, has a number of daughters and granddaughters which show the great excellency of her blood, being the daughter of the great "Tormentor," brother of Princess 2d, with her phenomenal record of over 46 pounds in a week.

"Scituate," of Woronoca, tracing back directly to "Jersey Belle," of Scituate, with her record of over 28 pounds in a week, is a most worthy representative of the family. In fact, there it no family of Jerseys of any prominence to be named, but has a representative in this herd.

In the selection of this herd, it was prominently the idea to collect the best members of the best families and cross them on to the finest bull to be had, and the great expense was always a minor consideration. The result has more than satisfied the most skeptical, and a would-be purchaser will be astonished to find himself able to purchase on the above date anything in the Jersey line his most fastidious taste may wish. Do not fail to attend this sale, for there will be sold to the highest bidder the finest and best collection of Jerseys ever offered to the public.

RETAIL GROCERS.

Do more work for less remuneration that any other class of merchants. Few seem to realize how much trouble it is to collect and distribute groceries to please the variety of tastes in a city like Atlanta. Nearly every one seems to desire a different brand of the same commodity, This often worries and taxes the grocer unnecessarily. In selling flour here this is certainly not necessary. Ph. H. Postel's flour can be had fresh and nice on short notice. It is always uniform and we believe makes more and better bread and pastry than any other on this market. It is wonderfully beautiful, and perfectly pure. It costs a little more than ordinary patents, but the best always costs something but is cheapest in the end.

The Postels are model millers and give their personal attention to the manufacture of this flour. They will not buy grain from an elevator—only from farmers' wagons—and every sack is sampled by Ph. H. Postel, Jr. Their ambition is to make the best, and they have succeeded. Every package is guaranteed to please and warranted absolutely pure.

A question for the readers of this advertisement: Who makes the flour you use? Is it pure, full of gluten and nutritious? Does it always rise and give satisfaction, or is it sometimes heavy and dead and merely white with starch? Does it not pay to buy the best?

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO THE SUperior court of said county: The petition of James R. Wylie, R. M. Farrar, T. L. Langston, Joel Hurt, H. T. Inman, E. C. Peters, George W. Parrott, W. P. Inman, J. H. Porter, W. A. Hemphill, H. L. Atwater, W. C. Hale, John M. DeSaussure, E. S. Pratt, G. R. DeSaussure, W. D. Ellis and J. R. Gray, all residing in the city of Atlanta, in said county, respectfully shows that they desire for themselves and such other persons as may hereafter become associated with them, to be made and constituted a body corporate under the name and style of the SOUTHERN MUTUAL BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ATLANTA.
The principal office, place of business and residence of said corporation shall be in the city of Atlanta, Ga., and a majority of the board of directors shall at all times reside in said city; but petitioners desire the privilege of transacting business anywhere within the state of Georgia, or in any other state whenever it may be to the interest of said association; to establish branch offices wherever it may be deemed expedient; to create general and local boards of directors for the management of said business, to appoint such attorneys, agents and representatives as may be necessary to carry on the business of said association, and to confer authority upon them for that purpose. The object of said association shall be pecuniary profit for its stockholders, the accumulation of a fund, which shall be paid in monthly installments by the stockholders, lending the same on real estate, personal, or other acceptable security, to the members of said association, or to persons not members thereof taking deeds, mortgages, executions or other liens, or personal security therefor, to sell or dispose of all such securities or any part thereof, if deemed advisable, to make, issue and sell bonds, or other obligations based on the security of property held by the association, to buy, sell, own and deal in any real or personal property; to improve any such real estate by erecting buildings, machinery or other appliances for increasing the value thereof, to sell the same for cash or on installments, and to do all other things necessary and lawful in the prosecution of said business and the proper management thereof.

The capital stock of said association shall be ten thousand shares, of the par value when paid up, of one hundred dollars per share; but petitioners pray for the privilege of beginning business whenever one thousand shares of said stock shall have been subscribed, and of increasing the said stock from time to time to the amount not exceeding fifty thousand shares, which stock shall be paid by successive monthly installments on each share, after the manner of building and loan associations. Petitioners further pray for the right to make such by-laws and rules of government for said corporation as may be necessary and proper, and to enforce the same by such penalties, fine, and forfeitures as may be agreed upon, provided all such rules and by-laws shall conform to the laws of said state; to borrow money on real estate or personal property and to execute such mortgages, deeds, transfers or conveyances thereof, as may be necessary; to have and use a common seal, to sue and be sued, to plead and be impleaded, to contract and be contracted with, and to have such other powers and do such other acts as are usual and proper to carry out the intent, design and purpose of said association. Petitioners pray to be incorporated for the full term of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of said term, and petitioners will ever pray, etc.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE GRAND JURY ARE CONSIDERING THE JAIL QUESTION.

The City Court Adjourns Today Until Monday, the 24th Instant—A Suit Against the Western Union in Civil Superior Court.

The grand jury was in session yesterday.

The jail and other criminal business of the sort were completed before ten o'clock, bu the grand jury didn't adjourn at ten o'clock.

Just what they did is a matter of conjecture.

It was known that a proposition would be made to consider the report of Dr. Chapman and the letter of Eugene Pacetti in regard to the condition and treatment of prisoners. Court house gossip and speculation were vague enough, but it is generally believed that the matter was gone into at some length, and evidence was introduced to corroborate the charges in the letter and report.

"That's tough on the county commissioners," remarked a courthouse official yesterday. "The grand jury is after them right."

"Will any true bills be found?" he was asked.

"Not about that, I suppose. I don't know anything about it."

"Are they disposed to blame the jail officials, or anybody besides the commissioners?"

"I don't know."

"Do you think they are?"

"I think not."

Quite a lot of interest is felt in the matter and there is a general impression that trouble is brewing for the county commissioners.

Criminal Superior Court.

Three cases were called in Judge Clark's court, but only one verdict was given. That was a consent verdict.

H. T. Cook, a white man, was charged with assault with intent to kill his wife with a knife on the 3rd of June last. This was a mistrial, eleven for acequittal and one for conviction.

Charles Green, colored, was charged with forgery. He was in the employ of the Georgia Pacific railroad, and is known to have mailed two forged orders to Birmingham. The orders were on Master of Transportation Anderson, and signed C. W. Bell, general yardmaster in Atlanta. Green admits having mailed the orders, and when arrested told conflicting stories as to who committed the forgery. Finally he confessed having done it himself, but Mr. Bell had induced the confession by telling Green: "Your job on the road depends on your telling the truth about this."

The confession was ruled out. The case was continued to this morning.

Alice Cash, a negro woman charged with assault with intent to kill, was allowed to plead guilty to the charge of assault and battery, and was fined $10 and costs, or two months in the gang.

Civil Superior Court.

The case of L. Steinau vs. the Western Union Telegraph company, was taken up before Judge Clarke yesterday. The case is an important one.

Steinau is a dealer in hides.

He sent a telegram November 14, 1885, to a hide dealer in Nashville, asking for an immediate reply to be addressed to him at the Kempner house. By mistake of the telegraph company, the answer was directed to the Kimball house, so that plaintiff did not receive it until three days later. The lost telegrams quoted hides at 15½ cents. He sold them in the mean time for 14½ cents. The suit is for $1,500 damages. The case is continued today.

The case of Hilland Thompson, receivers and assignees of the Citizens' bank, against the Atlanta National bank, was decided yesterday in favor of the defendant. Three or four other suits, exactly similar in character, were hinging on this case. The amount involved in the Atlanta National suit was $8,000. The amount really involved in the decision was in the neighborhood of $50,000.

City Court.

The case of Moses Freeman against the Georgia Pacific railroad for $5,000 damages was taken up in city court yesterday. It will be resumed this morning.

Wednesday in the city court the Milburn wagon company obtained judgment by default against James M. Latham. The defendant appeared in court and paid the costs and was allowed to open the case. The judgment was set aside and the case docketed for the first Monday in September.

The case of Dennis F. O'Sullivan against the city of Atlanta and the East Atlanta Land company was called yesterday. The suit was dismissed as against the city and settled with the land company.

The Freeman suit will be finished today and closes the civil docket for the term. The court adjourns today until Monday, June 24th, when the criminal business will be taken up. Solicitor Frank O'Bryan will have his hands full, the criminal docket being considerably larger than ever before.

Justice Courts.

There was a suit brought in Judge Manning's court yesterday for seventy-five cents. The suit is by A. Butler against S. B. Calloway, both colored. Calloway, it is said, has valuable property in Atlanta, but this is in his wife's name and safe from Calloway's debtors. In addition to this he owns property in Alabama valued at $25,000 to $50,000. He acknowledges the debt and says he will pay as soon as he is able.

Tom Jackson was bound over and sent to jail by Justice King, upon a charge of larceny from the car. It seems that a number of darkies were asleep night before last in a caboose. The window was raised, and Jackson, standing on the platform outside, reached in and collared a pair of suspenders.

The Whitlock Case.

Mr. M. T. Whitlock, charged with the murder of Belden, was out of jail for two hours yesterday, in custody of a bailiff.

Whitlock had requested the liberty for the purpose of making arrangements to defray the expenses of his trial. Judge Clark granted the request.

At 12 o'clock he was carried back to jail. The case will be called Monday next.

To Ask For a Receiver.

Tomorrow morning, before Judge Clarke, a motion will be heard asking that a receiver be appointed for the Farmers' Improvement and Savings association.

This is the company that Dr. A. H. Lindley wrecked. The scheme was a popular contrivance, and the final settlement will interest hundreds of people in all parts of the state. Mr. A. D. Adair, of Atlanta, was president of the association.

"The settlement," said he, "will probably be made on a basis of seventy-five cents on the dollar. The association can do this, I think, and that's all it can do."

"What was the——"

"I know what you are going to ask. We had to suspend because Lindley stole the money."

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, conomy, and medicinal merit.

PROPOSALS.

Letting No. 19--Notice to Contractors.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED AT the mayor's office in the city of Louisville until Saturday, June 15, 1889, at 12 m., for the following material:

For furnishing thirty thousand (30,000) tons (more or less) of granite blocks.

For furnishing ten thousand (10,000) lineal feet, more or less, of granite curbing.

For furnishing fifty thousand (50,000) lineal feet, more or less, of granite flagging for gutters.

DIMENSIONS.

The dimensions of the granite blocks must be as follows: In length not more than twelve (12) nor less than seven (7) inches; in width not more than five (5) nor less than three and one-half (3½) inches; in depth not more than six and one-half (6½) nor less than six (6) inches. The size preferred is seven (7) inches long, four (4) inches wide and six (6) inches deep.

The dimensions of the granite curbing must be as follows: Not less than five (5) feet long, not less than eighteen (18) inches deep and six (6) inches wide on top, with a bevel of one-eighth (⅛) of an inch from inner to outer edge.

The dimensions of the granite flagging must be as follows: Twenty-five thousand (25,000) lineal feet not less than five (5) feet in length and not less than eighteen (18) inches wide, and twenty-five thousand [25,000] lineal feet not less than five [5] feet long and not less than two (2) feet wide, the stones to be not less than six [6] nor more than [7] inches in depth.

Bidders in making out their proposals will be careful to see that there are no changing of figures, no scratches nor any interlineations; should such occur, the bid will be declared informal.

Bidders will be required to give as security some acceptable citizen of the city of Louisville.

A deposit of five thousand dollars ($5,000), or a certified check for that amount will be required with each bid as a guarantee for the faithful fulfillment of the contract.

All material that does not come up fully to the specifications will be rejected, and must be removed at the expense of the contractor.

Specifications for furnishing the above material will be furnished on application to the city engineer, Room 42, City Hall.

The material must be delivered on cars at any point along the line of railroad (within the city limits) that the city engineer may designate.

The above material must be furnished in accordance with the specifications on file in the city engineer's office, Room 42, City Hall.

Bond with approved security and bids on the proposals furnished by the city engineer, required, for the material to be furnished.

The city reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Bidders and representatives of the press are invited to attend the opening of the bids.

The contractor will be required to deliver not less than twenty-five hundred (2,500) tons of granite blocks per month, and must commence delivery of same in five days after notification by the city engineer.

The contractor for granite flagging for gutters will be required to deliver not less than five thousand (5,000) lineal feet of flagging per month, and must commence the delivery of same in five days after notification by the city engineer.
